TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over Jordan today and hammered a suspected guerrilla pocket a few miles beyond the Jordan River and just south of the Sea of Galilee.

A Jordanian army spokesman in Amman said two civilians were killed and nine injured, five seriously, in the 15-minute raid by four Mystere jets. Jordan sent a complaint to the United Nations.

Witnesses reported smoke and flames rising from the Jordan Valley, and military sources said the targets were bases of the Arab commando organization Al Fatah.

The army would give no information, and no further details were available.

The Suez Canal, scene of five artillery battles in the past six days, was reported quiet. Israeli and Egyptian gunners exchanged fire up and down the 103-mile waterway twice Thursday. Fires could be seen blazing at the Port Suez refinery complex and at Ismailia, but Cairo Radio said they were under control. Egypt also said six Egyptians had been wounded.

For the first time since the 1967 war, the shooting came within a dozen miles of Port Said, Egypt's sprawling Mediterranean port at the northern end of the canal.

Egypt claimed its guns downed three Israeli helicopters, but an Israeli spokesman denied the report. Israel reported no casualties or material losses.

An Egyptian communiqué said three Israeli missile positions were destroyed, as well as two artillery batteries, six tanks, eight mortar batteries, eight observation posts and four administrative areas.

The communiqué also claimed "the enemy suffered a large number of killed and wounded."

Apollo 9 Flight Most Successful

ABOARD THE USS GUADACANAL (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts take to the air again today.

They are scheduled to fly off the deck of this carrier on the first leg of a trip that ends with their family reunions at Ellington Air Force base near Houston.

The crewmen, Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart, go by helicopter to the Blueberry Auxiliary Air Force base in the Bahamas. The spacemen will transfer to a Space Agency airplane for a 60-minute flight to a refueling stop at Cape Kennedy. They'll leave there half an hour later and are expected at Ellington at 4 p.m. EST.

The space trio rode their Apollo command module to a pinpoint landing Thursday, splashing into a calm Atlantic 300 miles north of Puerto Rico within view of television cameras aboard this ship.

Good Condition After more than six hours of medical tests a flight surgeon said they were in very good condition with no significant medical problems.

The spacemen emerged from sick bay shaven and neatly dressed in blue overalls and sneakers.

They walked to their heat-sealed spacecraft on the carrier deck and McDivitt said affectionately, "Good old Gumdrops," referring to the code name used for the module during the flight.

The astronauts were honored guests at a dinner of steak and baked potatoes in the ship's officers mess.

350-Pound Cake Later, they took part in the ceremonial cutting of a 350-pound cake prepared by the ship's cooks.

While the astronauts rested and got accustomed to the gravity of earth, Space Agency officials celebrated what they had done.

Dr. George E. Mueller, associate director for manned space flight, called Apollo 9 "as successful a flight as any of us could ever wish for, as well as being as successful as any of us has ever seen."

He said he was especially pleased with the performance of the lunar module, which was flown manned for the first time.

Schweickart and McDivitt gave the spidery, manned debut, flying to more than 100 miles from the command module and then catching it.

Nixon Approves Missile Defense For U.S. Bases

Doves Attack Nixon's War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, with other congressional doves not far behind, has come down hard against the Nixon administration's handling of the Vietnam conflict, thus ending seven weeks of grace allowed the President to formulate his war policies.

In an interview, Fulbright broke the silence the war critics had imposed on themselves when Nixon took office to allow the new President time to try his hand where President Johnson had failed—to bring the fighting to a speedy end.

Neither De-Escalated But Fulbright said, as of now, he is "extremely disappointed" in Nixon's handling of the war situation.

The Arkansas Democrat, who heads the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that as of the moment he even feels the United States bears "greater responsibility" than the enemy in not de-escalating the fighting.

Following the bombing halt ordered last fall by President Johnson, Fulbright said, "It is my impression that we greatly increased our pacification program but did not take any other steps toward de-escalation."

Neither side de-escalated, he went on, but "we share the greater responsibility."

Still Time And since Nixon succeeded Johnson Jan. 20, the handling of the war "hasn't progressed as I hoped it would," Fulbright said.

"I'm not a bit happy about it," Fulbright said that he has asked his committee staff to prepare a study of the degree to which action by U.S. ground forces might have triggered the current enemy offensive.

He did say President Nixon still has time to reverse what appears to him to be a "re-escalation of the war."

Fulbright didn't make direct mention of it, but President Nixon has been considering the possibility of taking some sort of retaliatory action against North Vietnam because of the recent attacks against South Vietnamese population centers.

Not all the doves, however, want at this time to join in the attacks on Nixon. Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., another Foreign Relations Committee member, said "I have nothing now that I want to voice."

Expressed Hope New York Republican Jacob K. Javits, the newest Senate Foreign Relations Committee member, took a rather in-between position.

"I don't believe the time has yet expired in which the administration should be given the time to act," he said.

"But I believe the signs are very clear for the country and American policy that we must bring the Vietnam war to an end."

He expressed hope the new administration "will profit from the disaster that befell the Johnson administration and not go the same route."

Cities To Get Less Protection In Atom Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today approval of a "new concept" of missile defense aimed primarily at protecting American missile bases, rather than cities, against nuclear attack.

It would cost $6 billion to $7 billion, he said.

Announcing his decision in a statement for his noon news conference, Nixon said plans will be shifted to provide more protection for American missile facilities and less than originally envisioned for cities.

"Although every instinct motivates me to provide the American people with complete protection against a major nuclear attack," Nixon said, "it is not now within our power to do so."

But he added: "The safety of our country requires that we should proceed now with the development and construction of the new system in a carefully phased program."

List Objectives "The Sentinel system approved by the previous administration provided more capabilities for defense of cities than the program I am recommending," Nixon stated. "But it did not provide protection against some threats to our retaliatory forces which have developed subsequently."

The chief executive listed these objectives for his antimissile program: —"Protection of our land-based retaliatory forces against a direct attack by the Soviet Union."

—"Defense of the American people against the kind of nuclear attack which Communist China is likely to be able to mount within the decade."

—"Protection against possible accidental missile launches from any country."

In what appeared to be a message to the Soviet Union, Nixon said the modified Sentinel system "has been designed so that its defensive intent is unmistakable."

Provoke Soviets Some ABM critics contend the Sentinel would be provocative to the Soviets.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird presented Nixon on March 5 with several options on a nuclear umbrella. Nixon said today he chose the option which would begin a "measured construction on an active defense of our retaliatory forces."

Although the cost of the revised system is nearly $2 billion higher than the Johnson administration plan, Nixon's ABM program would get under way rather slowly.

"Paces Risks" Nixon said giving up construction of missile defense altogether "poses too many risks."

Using interceptor missiles and radars previously developed for the Sentinel, Nixon said protection will be provided for selected Minuteman missile sites as well as U.S. bomber bases and command and control facilities.

While such a system will provide general protection for the continental United States against a possible light Chinese attack in the 1970s, "this deployment will not require us to place missile and radar sites close to our major cities," he added.

Nixon said the first deployment covers only two missile sites, the first of which will not be completed before 1973.

He pointed out the Soviet Union is now building up its strategic forces faster than was projected by U.S. intelligence in 1967 when the decision to deploy Sentinel was made.

Soviet Advances Nixon cited these Soviet advances: —They already have deployed an antiballistic missile system "which protects to some degree a wide area centered around Moscow. We will not have a comparable capability for over four years."

—The Soviets continue to deploy large intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of destroying U.S. Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles, bedrock of the American nuclear deterrent.

—The Soviets are "substantially increasing" their embryo fleet of missile-launching submarines and also appear to be

Expect Russia To Follow Suit

Senate Ratifies A-Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty has passed the next move in dampening down the arms race to the United States' would be partner in disarmament talks—the Soviet Union.

U.S. diplomats generally expected that Moscow would soon follow suit. The Kremlin does not have to tussle with a sometimes balky legislature in its ratification routine.

But some figured the Soviets might foot-drag a while, using the delay for such political purposes as pressuring the West Germans to join the treaty.

It takes ratification by all three original nuclear co-sponsors of the pact—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—to bring the treaty into force. Britain ratified last November.

Also, at least 40 other nonnuclear nations must ratify. Since the treaty was presented to the world last July 1, a total of 87 countries have signed and 10 have ratified.

Lopsided Vote A lopsided Senate vote of 83 to 15 in favor of the treaty Thursday climaxed an eight month U.S. delay caused by international tensions and domestic politics.

Hart, Griffin For Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both of Michigan's U.S. Senators, Democrat Philip A. Hart and Republican Robert P. Griffin, were among the 83 lawmakers who voted overwhelmingly Thursday to ratify the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

In all, 46 Democrats and 34 Republicans voted for the treaty while seven Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it.

Mrs. Nixon Attends Circus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saw her first circus in five years, a special matinee for 6,300 poor and physically-handicapped children, and called it "really a great show."

"I've always loved the circus," said the President's wife, who was flanked at the performance Thursday by two 4-year-olds from an infant home.

President Johnson sent the treaty to the Senate last July with a call for prompt ratification. The Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August induced many senators to go slow on the pact. President Nixon, then campaigning, favored a period of delay but resubmitted the treaty to the Senate after he took office.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who floor-managed the treaty as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, beat back all amendments handily when the agreement did come up for debate.

The treaty carries two basic provisions: (1) nuclear nations pledge not to supply atomic arms to those who do not have them, and (2) the have-not countries agree not to acquire them.

Two Exceptions It is a follow-up to the pioneer disarmament pact of atomic age, the 1963 test ban treaty which outlawed all except underground nuclear explosions.

The test ban pact was ratified by virtually all countries except France and Red China. Those two went ahead with their own nuclear programs and also have refused to sign the nonproliferation treaty.

But there is a major difference in the potential impact of the two treaties which makes prospects for the new accord far more uncertain.

In the test ban treaty, only the nuclear signers were limiting themselves in a practical way because they were the only treat-

—Recommends a sweeping changes for the much-criticized Job Corps;

Nixon, like GAO, recommended retention of OEO as an agency.

ty countries which had been conducting atomic tests.

Hold Outs In signing the nonproliferation treaty, the nuclear powers are just confirming their existing policies against putting atomic weapons in the hands of others.

It is the have-not countries who would be renouncing hopes for some day joining the nuclear club.

Thus a significant group of nations with technical ability to build nuclear arsenals are still debating whether to sign the nonproliferation treaty. They include West Germany, Japan, Israel and India.

The superpowers are particularly anxious to get such countries on the dotted line, for their main aim in the treaty is to prevent regional rivalries from developing into nuclear arms races which could ignite World War III.

Antipoverty Program Berated

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unpublished report by congressional investigators recommends that the Office of Economic Opportunity be stripped of its authority to coordinate antipoverty programs and that the responsibility be assumed directly by the White House.

The General Accounting Office, auditing arm of Congress, concluded after a two year study that only a firm White House effort can bring order to the multitude of antipoverty and social welfare programs on which the federal government spends $25 billion annually.

The 200-page report, tentatively scheduled by GAO for release next week, is being kept under tight security. But several Capitol Hill and federal agency officials who have been briefed on GAO's findings told The Associated Press Thursday that the document:

Shortcomings —Levels its sharpest criticism at shortcomings in the administration of OEO programs and the lack of coordination between those projects and the scores of similar programs now run by more than a dozen different agencies;

Inquiry Ends; Bucher Waits

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher began a long wait "with some apprehension" today for a Navy court of inquiry to decide his fate following its hearings on the capture of the USS Pueblo.

The court ended its eight-week inquiry Thursday after hearing Bucher declare again, "We did not have the power to resist" seizure by North Koreans. The five admirals on the court, who earlier had warned Bucher he could be recommended for court-martial for surrendering while he still had power to resist, began 10 days of deliberation.

In his summation, Bucher's attorney, E. Miles Harvey, pleaded that the 41-year-old skipper "be returned to full duty and to occupy his rightful position in a normal career pattern."

The court, which could recommend anything from court-martial to medals, will deliver "findings of fact, opinion and recommendations" to Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific Fleet. Hyland probably will take about two weeks to review the findings, the spokesman said, and then send them to Washington, D.C. for a review "by higher authority" before they are made public.

Gov't Pays Druggist $328,000

NEON, Ky. (AP) — The sign on a narrow storefront in this mountain town of 750 says "Clarke's Pharmacy." A curious visitor might wonder how co-owner William S. Clarke Jr. scratches out a living.

But Clarke needs no condolences. That tiny store in the farthest reaches of poverty-saturated Appalachia received $328,000 from the state last year in Medicaid payments, the largest amount dispensed to any medical vendor in the state.

Not Perturbed Without Medicaid, Clarke says, the pharmacy might do a total of $10,000 in business annually.

The report on the big Medicaid payments raised eyebrows around the state, but did not perturb Clarke, 44, a soft-spoken, bespectacled businessman who came to Kentucky from his native South Carolina a decade ago "to enjoy the clean mountain air."

But reports of large payments—to doctors and dentists, too—have prompted the state Economic Security Department to ask for a thorough federal review of the entire Medicaid program.

The state paid $10 million last year for medicine and druggists' fees.

Nixon said giving up construction of missile defense altogether "poses too many risks."

Using interceptor missiles and radars previously developed for the Sentinel, Nixon said protection will be provided for selected Minutemen missile sites as well as U.S. bomber bases and command and control facilities.

While such a system will provide general protection for the continental United States against a possible light Chinese attack in the 1970s, "this deployment will not require us to place missile and radar sites close to our major cities," he added.

Nixon said the first deployment covers only two missile sites—the first of which will not be completed before 1973.

He pointed out the Soviet Union is now building up its strategic forces faster than was projected by U.S. intelligence in 1967 when the decision to deploy Sentinel was made.

Soviet Advances
Nixon cited these Soviet advances:

—"They already have deployed an antiballistic missile system 'which protects to some degree a wide area centered around Moscow. We will not have a comparable capability for over four years.'"

—"The Soviets continue to deploy large intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of destroying U.S. Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles, bedrock of the American nuclear deterrent."

—"The Soviets are 'substantially increasing' their embryo fleet of missile-launching submarines and also appear to be

Expect Russia To Follow Suit

Senate Ratifies A-Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty has passed the next move in damping down the arms race to the United States' would be partner in disarmament talks—the Soviet Union.

U.S. diplomats generally expected that Moscow would soon follow suit. The Kremlin does not have to tussle with a sometimes balky legislature in its ratification routine.

But some figured the Soviets might foot-drag a while, using the delay for such political purposes as pressuring the West Germans to join the treaty.

It takes ratification by all three original nuclear co-sponsors of the pact—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—to bring the treaty into force. Britain ratified last November.

Also, at least 40 other nonnuclear nations must ratify. Since the treaty was presented to the world last July 1, a total of 87 countries have signed and 10 have ratified.

Lopsided Vote
A lopsided Senate vote of 83 to 15 in favor of the treaty Thursday clinaxed an eight month U.S. delay caused by international tensions and domestic politics.

Hart, Griffin For Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both of Michigan's U.S. Senators, Democrat Philip A. Hart and Republican Robert P. Griffin, were among the 83 lawmakers who voted overwhelmingly Thursday to ratify the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

In all, 49 Democrats and 34 Republicans voted for the treaty while seven Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it.

Mrs. Nixon Attends Circus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saw her first circus in five years, a special matinee for 6,300 poor and physically-handicapped children, and called it "really a great show."

"I've always loved the circus," said the President's wife, who was flanked at the performance Thursday by two 4-year-olds from an infant home.

President Johnson sent the treaty to the Senate last July with a call for prompt ratification.

The Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August induced many senators to go slow on the pact. President Nixon, then campaigning, favored a period of delay but resubmitted the treaty to the Senate after he took office.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who floor-managed the treaty as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, beat back all amendments handily when the agreement did come up for debate.

The treaty carries two basic provisions: (1) nuclear nations pledge not to supply atomic arms to those who do not have them, and (2) the have-not countries agree not to acquire them.

Two Exceptions
It is a follow-up to the pioneer disarmament pact of atomic age, the 1963 test ban treaty which outlawed all except underground nuclear explosions.

The test ban pact was ratified by virtually all countries except France and Red China. Those two went ahead with their own nuclear programs and also have refused to sign the nonproliferation treaty.

But there is a major difference in the potential impact of the two treaties which makes prospects for the new accord far more uncertain.

In the test ban treaty, only the nuclear signers were limiting themselves in a practical way because they were the only tra-ty countries which had been conducting atomic tests.

Hold Outs
In signing the nonproliferation treaty, the nuclear powers are just confirming their existing policies against putting atomic weapons in the hands of others. It is the have-not countries who would be renouncing hopes for some day joining the nuclear club.

Thus a significant group of nations with technical ability to build nuclear arsenals are still debating whether to sign the nonproliferation treaty. They include West Germany, Japan, Israel and India.

The superpowers are particularly anxious to get such countries on the dotted line, for their main aim in the treaty is to prevent regional rivalries from developing into nuclear arms races which could ignite World War III.

Antipoverty Program Berated

WASHINGTON (AP) — An OEO but transferring responsibility for all other programs to the White House;

—Recommends that OEO remain responsible for innovation, a sort of research and development role;

—Recommends sweeping changes for the much-criticized Job Corps;

—Recommends consolidation of manpower training programs;

—Calls for congressional review of apparent conflicts between community action groups and neighborhood boards in the Model Cities program.

Impossible
Several of the recommendations correspond with President Nixon's action last month in transferring the Job Corps from OEO to the Labor Department and the Head Start program from the antipoverty agency to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Nixon, like GAO, recommended retention of OEO as an agency.

The report says that OEO, with a $2 billion annual budget, was given the impossible assignment of coordinating the entire federal antipoverty effort, which includes programs ranging from welfare and unemployment benefits to educational supplements and Social Security payments.

Shortcomings
—Levels its sharpest criticism at shortcomings in the administration of OEO programs and the lack of coordination between those projects and the scores of similar programs now run by more than a dozen different agencies;

—Recommends wholesale changes in the apparatus of antipoverty operations, leaving the Community Action Programs to

Gov't Pays Druggist $328,000

NEON, Ky. (AP) — The sign on a narrow storefront in this mountain town of 750 says "Clarke's Pharmacy." A curious visitor might wonder how co-owner William S. Clarke Jr. scratches out a living.

But Clarke needs no condolences. That tiny store in the farthest reaches of poverty-saturated Appalachia received $328,000 from the state last year in Medicaid payments, the largest amount dispensed to any medical vendor in the state.

Not Perturbed
Without Medicaid, Clarke says, the pharmacy might do a total of $10,000 in business annually.

The report on the big Medicaid payments raised eyebrows around the state, but did not perturb Clarke, 44, a soft-spoken, bespectacled businessman who came to Kentucky from his native South Carolina a decade ago "to enjoy the clean mountain air."

But reports of large payments—to doctors and dentists, too—have prompted the state Economic Security Department to ask for a thorough federal review of the entire Medicaid program.

The state paid $10 million last year for medicine and druggists' fees.

Not All Profit
Clarke was happy to explain how a seemingly small operation in the hinterlands of eastern Kentucky could become so profitable—although hastily adding that it's not all profit.

"It so happens that I am sitting in a nest of welfare recipients," he said.

Clarke estimated that within a five-mile radius of Neon live perhaps 15,000 people and that possibly 80 per cent are on some form of state relief, which generally entitles them to a card giving free prescriptions.

Owens Other Pharmacies
He also owns pharmacies at Jenkins, a larger town five miles from here, and in Letcher County near the Virginia line.

The Jenkins pharmacy received $125,950 last year, third highest payment to a medical vendor.

"I think Medicaid has been good to me and I think I've been good to it," Clarke said.

"I feel I've helped people, and not only in filling prescriptions. I've treated them with kindness and compassion. I've talked to them about anything they want to talk about—and these people need to talk to someone."

The welfare clients entering the small store are mostly old, often handicapped and generally talkative about seasonal matters—the snow, planting crops and the like.

Clarke said that even if he were unprincipled, the Medicaid operation makes it impossible for him to "take" the state for one extra cent.

200 Orders A Day
The forms are all neatly stacked in a room behind the front store portion: eye-dropping lists of the patient's medical assistance number plus numbers of the prescription and drug, date and quantity dispensed, the physician's license number, the cost of the drug and finally the professional fee.

Each prescription fee averages about $3 and thus the Neon pharmacy must fill some 200 prescriptions every day.

Historians To Hear Story Of Antique Bottles

Antique American bottles and how they relate to history, nationally and locally, will be the topic for the program to be presented to the Delta County Historical Society by Mrs. Robert Ham, Escanaba, on Wednesday, March 19.

The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building at 8 p. m. and the interested public is invited, said Mrs. Clint Dunathan, Historical Society president.

Mrs. Ham is a member of the Antique Bottle Collectors Association, has made a study of early-day bottles and bottles of Delta County, and her presentation will include an exhibit of antique glass containers from her collection. She is president of the Escanaba Public Library Board of Trustees.

There will be reports from committees, including preparations for the opening of the Historical Museum in Ludington Park in Michigan Week in May, and the installation of a historical marker at Whitefish Hill near Rapid River.

Coffee will be served after the program. Members are invited to bring guests.

Play Tapes Of Sirhan's Capture

LOS ANGELES (AP) — They talked about everything that morning except Robert F. Kennedy whose life was ebbing. While the nation reeled with the news that another Kennedy had been shot, his assassin bantered amiably with police.

But he wouldn't give his name. He seemed to delight in being called John Doe, Joe Incommunicado, Jesse Incommunicado.

Not until hours later did police learn that the tall, skinny, olive-skinned youth in their custody was Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian Arab.

Tape recordings of Sirhan's conversations in police interrogation rooms during the hours immediately after the death gun was wrested from his hand were played Thursday for the jury trying him for murder.

Treated "Fine"
How was he being treated, Sirhan was asked at one point. "Fine," he said. "I was lavished with your company, sir. I would say I was the most merrily entertained of anyone in this whole building."

"You're sort of the star of the show," said Sgt. William C. Jordan, now lieutenant, the watch commander.

"Better take acting, huh?" Sirhan said.

The jury will hear more tapes Monday when court reconvenes after a three-day recess, called to allow defense attorneys to attend a lawyers' conference.

Bothered By Looks
In the early tapes, Sirhan's voice sounded slurred, often unintelligible. The defense has contended he was intoxicated. As the night wore on, he sounded far more relaxed and seemed to enjoy the officers' roundabout ways of trying to win his confidence.

Not once did Sirhan ask what

Bridge Traffic Gain Hailed As Boon To U.P.

A 40 per cent increase in February traffic over the Mackinac Straits bridge was hailed today by Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert of Petoskey and Rep. Robert W. Davis of St. Ignace as a bright economic shot in the arm for Northern Michigan communities.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority recently announced that 45,607 vehicles crossed the bridge last month, compared with 32,367 for February a year ago. This was far greater than any other winter month in bridge history.

"It is quite apparent that the reduction in bridge fares resulting from a share of the gas tax increase being allotted to bridge operations is going to pay big dividends for northern Michigan," said Schweigert and Davis, who represent areas surrounding the magnificent span.

"It had been evident for a long time that bridge tolls had been stifling inter-peninsula traffic. January and February figures indicate that traffic increases resulting from the toll reduction are likely to be much greater than anticipated."

"Northern Michigan communities can expect an economic shot in the arm as a result. We are sure that when word gets around the United States about the lowered fares that we can expect a heavy influx of out-of-state tourists willing to make the complete trip through Michigan, instead of only stopping to look at the bridge and then turn back."

Schweigert and Davis particularly noted the fact that truck traffic in February showed an increase of more than 27 per cent.

"Some persons have complained that, while the bridge tolls were reduced, the increase in the gasoline tax by one cent and the increase in the automobile license plate fees more than offset toll reduction," said the Straits area legislators.

"In the first place, the automobile license plate fees do not go into the Straits bridge fund."

"The gasoline tax increase was necessary for state highway construction and operations and northern Michigan legislators worked hard to get a share of the increase to reduce the bridge tolls because of the help it would bring to that area. If this money had not been obtained for the bridge operations, northern Michigan would have had to pay the tax increase just the same."

"We felt that, since the tax increase was going to pass anyway, it was imperative that our section of the state get a share of it rather than have it go to other parts of the state by default."

It was the third time the store has been entered in the past four months. Several arrests have been made in connection with the breaking and entering, the latest Thursday when State Police charged Richard Neuens, 18, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, and Harley Herrick Jr., 18, of Rte. 1, Rock, with a breaking and entering of Jan. 31. National Forest Timber Cutting Half Of Normal

Because of unusually deep snows in the Upper Peninsula this winter, timber cutting on the Hiawatha National Forest is about half the normal rate for winter.

In spite of this, local loggers cut timber on 65 different National Forest areas during January and February of this year. They cut a total of 124,000 board feet of sawlogs and 5,261 cords of pulpwood valued at $29,658.17.

Much of this cutting was done in and near deer yards, thereby providing both browse for immediate use and regeneration for future use and permanent betterment of the yard. Forty-three sales were in or near deer wintering areas.

could branch out into another field where little was being done — that of caring for children with burns. They now own and operate three Burns Centers, in Galveston, Texas, Boston, Mass., and Cincinnati, Ohio. Here they employ the best specialists to care for these unfortunate children.

The uniqueness of both the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals and the Burns Centers is that any child regardless of race, color and creed and whose parents are unable to pay for the hospitalization can be admitted and treated.

To finance these hospitals today, Shriners everywhere are busy at work. In Delta County, the Delta Shrine Club is a part of this busy group. One of the ways this group helps is by sponsoring the annual Shrine Ball to be held on April 19 at the Terrace Ballroom.

All proceeds from this gala event are sent to these hospitals to help some unfortunate boy or girl receive treatment and in time live a normal life.

"You're sort of the star of the show," said Sgt. William C. Jordan, now lieutenant, the watch commander.

"Better take acting, huh?" Sirhan said.

The jury will hear more tapes Monday when court reconvenes after a three-day recess, called to allow defense attorneys to attend a lawyers' conference.

Bothered By Looks

In the early tapes, Sirhan's voice sounded slurred, often unintelligible. The defense has contended he was intoxicated. As the night wore on, he sounded far more relaxed and seemed to enjoy the officers' round-about ways of trying to win his confidence.

Not once did Sirhan ask what

Bridge Traffic Gain Hailed As Boon To U.P.

A 40 per cent increase in February traffic over the Mackinac Straits bridge was hailed today by Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert of Petoskey and Rep. Robert W. Davis of St. Ignace as a bright economic shot in the arm for Northern Michigan communities.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority recently announced that 45,607 vehicles crossed the bridge last month, compared with 32,367 for February a year ago. This was far greater than any other winter month in bridge history.

"It is quite apparent that the reduction in bridge fares resulting from a share of the gas tax increase being allotted to bridge operations is going to pay big dividends for northern Michigan," said Schweigert and Davis, who represent areas surrounding the magnificent span.

"It had been evident for a long time that bridge tolls had been stifling inter-peninsula traffic. January and February figures indicate that traffic increases resulting from the toll reduction are likely to be much greater than anticipated."

"Northern Michigan communities can expect an economic shot in the arm as a result. We are sure that when word gets around the United States about the lowered fares that we can expect a heavy influx of out-of-state tourists willing to make the complete trip through Michigan, instead of only stopping to look at the bridge and then turn back."

Schweigert and Davis particularly noted the fact that truck traffic in February showed an increase of more than 27 per cent.

"Some persons have complained that, while the bridge tolls were reduced, the increase in the gasoline tax by one cent and the increase in the automobile license plate fees more than offset toll reduction," said the Straits area legislators.

"In the first place, the automobile license plate fees do not go into the Straits bridge fund."

"The gasoline tax increase was necessary for state highway construction and operations and northern Michigan legislators worked hard to get a share of the increase to reduce the bridge tolls because of the help it would bring to that area. If this money had not been obtained for the bridge operations, northern Michigan would have had to pay the tax increase just the same."

"We felt that, since the tax increase was going to pass anyway, it was imperative that our section of the state get a share of it rather than have it go to other parts of the state by default."

CARL ROBERTS, manager of the Rock Co-op store, stands between the door and window which were broken last Saturday night during an attempt to gain entry into the store. After breaking the glass on the door, the intruder apparently discovered bars on the inside of the door so the plate glass window was broken to gain entry. It was the third time the store has been entered in the past four months. Several arrests have been made in connection with the breaking and entering, the latest Thursday when State Police charged Richard Neuens, 18, of Rte. 1, Gladstone and Harley Herrick Jr., 19, of Rte. 1, Rock, with a breaking and entering of Jan. 31. Both young men were released after an appearance in District Court for preliminary examination March 20, officers reported. (Mrs. Albert Weidum Photo)

Tickets Available Briefly Told For Ink Spots Concert Tonight

Tickets for the concert of the Ink Spots, one of the nation's most popular musical groups, will be available at the door of the William W. Oliver auditorium in the Junior High School tonight. The concert is scheduled at 8 p. m.

Sponsored by the Delta County Barbershoppers, proceeds from the concert will go to the Music Dept. of the Escanaba Area public schools and also to the Barbershoppers' national charity, the School of Logopedics, a speech correction school in Kansas.

Malicious damage to the Wells School is under investigation by State Police. Officers reported someone fired an air rifle at the front door.

State Police of the Gladstone Post issued traffic summonses Thursday to Robert Sturdy, Rte. 1, Gladstone, no trailer plates; Elizabeth Donalds, 729 S. 16th St., Escanaba, Norman LaPalm Sr., 215 N. 19th St., Escanaba, and Alvin Buckland, 1512 N. 19th St., Escanaba, all for speeding.

House Votes Against Unlimited Spending

LANSING (AP) — Spending money, deciding who may talk next and dealing with campus disorder is a business enough for any group of politicians.

Those topics proved more than an afternoon's work Thursday in a curious House session that found members voting against unlimited committee expenses or against introducing guests, even distinguished ones, on the House floor.

From a discussion of changes in the rules of the House there were these developments:

—The speaker is empowered to decide if expenses of the 32 standing committees are "necessary, economical and reasonable."

—No guest, presumably not even the president of the United States, would be introduced during a session.

—Dissent within House Democratic ranks broke off debate on a resolution concerning campus disorders.

In action that one Republican called the best in years, the House threw out a time-honored practice of allowing members the courtesy — and occasional tactic — of introducing guests.

The practice traditionally has been observed at the start of daily sessions but was indulged at will, whenever it seemed appropriate.

Pleased or amused, members said the new restriction could easily be sidestepped; a new element of political gamemanship is now introduced since members must ask for the rule's suspension to make an introduction. Such a request may be objected to, voted on and even defeated. That tactic was quickly explored.

Discussion of other business was interrupted by Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who demanded the House consider a resolution to commend Dr. Victor Spatthoff, president of Ferris State College.

Demo Caucus

Spatthoff drew attention and criticism for his actions in recent racial disturbances at the school in Big Rapids. He was criticized by Negroes and civil rights groups.

O'Brien's resolution would require Senate concurrence, if adopted by the House. It provoked sharp debate at earlier sessions and was returned to committee for study.

Debate began with House Rule 31, section F, which previously allowed committees $500 annually for expenses. Additional funds routinely have been granted, subject to approval by committee chairman, and the speaker. Expense records are open to public inspection.

Committee Spending

After defeat of a motion to raise the sum to $1,000, George F. Montgomery, Democratic floor leader, proposed that chairman be made responsible for their committees' expenses. He proposed the rule allow "members of regular standing committees to expend funds for actual and necessary expenses."

Defeat of Montgomery's proposal came after it was opposed by Speaker William A. Ryan of Detroit.

Citing "an obvious need to exceed $1,000" in allowances, Ryan blocked his majority lieutenant by adding, "you are stating that chairmen have an unlimited right to spend money."

"That relieves the speaker of the responsibility, but I fear it'd be a little too expensive."

"We'll just have to tackle this one head on," Montgomery replied at one point.

Montgomery later said the limits set by House rules do not curb committee spending. He said total allocations in 1968 were $28,818 and in 1967 were $41,693.

Ruppe Receiving Applications To Service Academies

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe is now accepting applications for nomination to the United States Service Academies for the classes which will begin in 1970.

Young men interested in applying for nomination and who are residents of the 11th District of Michigan should write him at 509 Cannon House Office Building in Washington, D. C. 20515. The closing date for submitting an application is Sept. 29, 1969.

The 11th District of Michigan will have vacancies at the United States Air Force, Merchant Marine and Military Academies. Young men who are interested in attending the Naval Academy should contact either Senator Robert P. Griffin or Senator Philip A. Hart at the Senate Office Building in Washington, D. C.

Among recent library acquisitions are "The Freedom Revolution and the Churches" by Robert W. Spike; "Diagrams for Living" by Emmet Fox; "Prayers From the Burned-Out City" by Robert W. Castle Jr.; "Faith and Politics" by Reinhold Niebuhr; and "What Do We Believe?" by Martin E. Marty.

Richard Boudreau Honored For Work In Apollo Project

HOUSTON, Tex. — Richard (Dick) Boudreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boudreau of Garden, is one of 23 employees of the Systems Group of TRW, Inc., who was recognized by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for significant contributions to the success of the Apollo space program.

Astronaut James Irwin presented "Snoopy" to the employees in ceremonies at the Space Center. "Snoopy," the winsome pooch in Charles Schulz' "Peanuts" comic strip, was chosen as the symbol of manned flight awareness by the astronauts.

Boudreau is an electrical engineer and works on the guidance systems of Apollo projects.

The U. S. postmaster general is appointed to hold office during the term of the president and one month thereafter.

Widespread Debate On Ray Conspiracy

By The Associated Press

Debate over whether the Martin Luther King assassination was the work of James Earl Ray alone or the result of a conspiracy is widespread and growing.

Those who say Ray conspired with others include King's widow and close associates, an attorney Ray fired, a brother of the assassin and, more or less indirectly, Ray himself.

Those who say only that there is no evidence to indicate a conspiracy include the judge and prosecutor in the case, Ray's official biographer and former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The only principal in the debate who has stated flatly that no conspiracy existed has been Percy Foreman, Ray's lawyer when the case ended. He put it this way in court in Memphis last Monday:

"It took me months to prove to myself...that it was not a conspiracy."

Ray Disagrees

But Ray then stood up in court and said, without elaboration, that he personally did not agree with the theory that there was no conspiracy.

John Larry Ray, a brother of the killer, lined up on the side of the believers in a conspiracy in an interview printed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Thursday.

Ray quoted brother James as having told him:

"I am not the only one in on this."

"My brother," John Ray was quoted as telling an interviewer, "said there was someone else in on this 'deal' but it had been hushed up by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I didn't press him on what he meant."

Coretta King, widow of the slain Negro leader, said after the trial the "search for the many fingers which pulled the trigger" should continue.

Ray A "Paw"

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who succeeded King as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, pledged the organization's vigilance "until justice is meted out to all of the perpetrators."

The Rev. Andrew Young, SCLC executive vice president, said he thought Ray "was at most merely a tool or a pawn."

Ray was called "a dupe" by Arthur Hanes, Jr., his original attorney, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala. Hanes said there was no question in his mind that "there was a plot involved."

Judge W. Preston Battle, who presided over the final hearing, told newsmen that the prosecution "at this time is not in possession of enough evidence to indict anyone as a co-conspirator in this case. Of course, this is not conclusive evidence that there was no conspiracy."

Race Switch Gets Results

MUSKEGON (AP) — "It released a lot of racial tension."

This was the consensus of 14 Negro and white Muskegon-area high school students who spent three days living with members of the opposite race this week.

Paula Hines, a Negro student from Muskegon Heights, said "lots of friendships have grown as a result of the experiment."

But she said, "We haven't gotten the hard-core people. Now we have to get the people who are a little doubtful."

A white student from Muskegon Monda Shores, Izzy Blake, said, "The kids who went didn't have the hostile attitude." "Some students at Monda Shores wouldn't set foot in a Negro's house," Miss Blake added. "They are the ones who need to go."

Mrs. Max Rothschild, a counselor at Muskegon Heights, said, "Rather than seeing differences, they enjoyed each other as people with something in common. They begged to extend the program but this couldn't be worked out."

"The program," she added, "has brought out that color makes a pleasant variety rather than a threatening difference."

The experimental program was sponsored by the human relations departments at Muskegon Heights High School, which has some 600 black students among an enrollment of 1,087, and Monda Shores, which has six Negroes in a student body of 1,750.

Maria H. Carlson Of Escanaba Dies, Services Monday

Maria H. Carlson, 82, of 816 Sheridan Rd., died at St. Francis Hospital at 4:15 a. m. today.

Mrs. Carlson was the widow of C. Gust Carlson, who died in 1968. She was born June 1, 1886, in Finland.

Survivors include two sons, Carl of Escanaba and Gust of Bay View; one daughter, Mrs. John (Esther) Ullman of New Berlin, Wis., and seven grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p. m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Monday at the funeral home with Rev. Robert Selberg officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Opposing Present Parochial Bill

ALLEGAN (AP) — A parochial bill providing direct tax relief for parents of children attending church schools is favored by the Michigan chapter of the American Independent Party, a party official said Thursday.

Vice Chairman James W. Clark of Allegan said the party is opposed to the primary parochial bill now before the legislature.

But he said the alternate bill would provide "much-needed financial relief to parents who choose to have their children receive Christian training in school." At the same time, Clark said the bill would "avoid state control of religious school affairs."

The Escanaba Public Library has on display a collection of books which are of particular interest during this pre-Easter season, reports Librarian Mrs. O. W. Brookes.

Included are "The First Easter" by Peter Marshall; "The Ten Commandments" by Terence J. Finlay; "But God Comes First" by Dervy Morgan; "The Power and the Wisdom" by John L. McKenzie; "The Sermon on the Mount" by Emmet Fox; "Interpreting the Parables" by A. M. Hunter; "In the End God" by John A. T. Robinson; "Record of the Promise" by W. J. Harrington; "Space Age Christianity" edited by Stephen F. Bayne; "The Modern God" by Gustave Weigek; "My Answer" by Billy Graham; and "To Live Again" by Catherine Marshall.

Others are "Taking the Bible Seriously" by Leander E. Keck; "The Day Christ Died" by James A. Bishop; "Way to Inner Peace" by Fulton J. Sheen; "The Word Dwells Among Us" by William E. Lynch; "The Risen Christ" by C. Houselander; "The Family and the Bible" by Mary Reed Newland; "The Son of Man" by Francois Mauriac; and "Your Children's Faith" by Florence M. Taylor.

In addition to many general books and books of meditation, translations of the Bible, the Interpreter's Bible series, "Masterpieces of Christian Literature in Summary," and "The New Catholic Encyclopedia" are available at the Escanaba Public Library.

Among recent library acquisitions are "The Freedom Revolution and the Churches" by Robert W. Spike; "Diagrams for Living" by Emmet Fox; "Prayers From the Burned-Out City" by Robert W. Castle Jr.; "Faith and Politics" by Reinhold Niebuhr; and "What Do We Believe?" by Martin E. Marty.

Richard Boudreau Honored For Work In Apollo Project

HOUSTON, Tex. — Richard (Dick) Boudreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boudreau of Garden, is one of 23 employees of the Systems Group of TRW, Inc., who was recognized by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for significant contributions to the success of the Apollo space program.

Astronaut James Irwin presented "Snoopy" pins to the employees in ceremonies at the Space Center. "Snoopy," the winsome pooch in Charles Schulz' "Peanuts" comic strip, was chosen as the symbol of manned flight awareness by the astronauts.

Boudreau is an electrical engineer and works on the guidance systems of Apollo projects.

Widespread Debate On Ray Conspiracy

By The Associated Press

Debate over whether the Martin Luther King assassination was the work of James Earl Ray alone or the result of a conspiracy is widespread and growing.

Those who say Ray conspired with others include King's widow and close associates, an attorney Ray fired, a brother of the assassin and, more or less indirectly, Ray himself.

Those who say only that there is no evidence to indicate a conspiracy include the judge and prosecutor in the case, Ray's official biographer and former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The only principal in the debate who has stated flatly that no conspiracy existed has been Percy Foreman, Ray's lawyer when the case ended. He put it this way in court in Memphis last Monday:

"It took me months to prove to myself...that it was not a conspiracy."

Ray Disagrees

But Ray then stood up in court and said, without elaboration, that he personally did not agree with the theory that there was no conspiracy.

John Larry Ray, a brother of the killer, lined up on the side of the believers in a conspiracy in an interview printed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Thursday.

Ray quoted brother James as having told him:

"I am not the only one in on this."

"My brother," John Ray was quoted as telling an interviewer, "said there was someone else in on this 'deal' but it had been hushed up by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I didn't press him on what he meant."

Coretta King, widow of the slain Negro leader, said after the trial the "search for the many fingers which pulled the trigger" should continue.

Ray A 'Pawn'

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who succeeded King as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, pledged the organization's vigilance "until justice is meted out to all of the perpetrators."

The Rev. Andrew Young, SCLC executive vice president, said he thought Ray "was at most merely a tool or a pawn."

Ray was called "a dupe" by Arthur Hanes, Jr., his original attorney, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala. Hanes said there was no question in his mind that "there was a plot involved."

Judge W. Preston Battle, who presided over the final hearing, told newsmen that the prosecution "at this time is not in possession of enough evidence to indict anyone as a co-conspirator in this case. Of course, this is not conclusive evidence that there was no conspiracy."

Race Switch Gets Results

MUSKEGON (AP) — "It released a lot of racial tension."

This was the consensus of 14 Negro and white Muskegon-area high school students who spent three days living with members of the opposite race this week.

Paula Hines, a Negro student from Muskegon Heights, said "lots of friendships have grown as a result of the experiment." But she said, "We haven't gotten the hard-core people. Now we have to get the people who are a little doubtful."

A white student from Muskegon Monda Shores, Izzy Blake, said, "The kids who went didn't have the hostile attitude." "Some students at Monda Shores wouldn't set foot in a Negro's house," Miss Blake added. "They are the ones who need to go."

Mrs. Max Rothschild, a counselor at Muskegon Heights, said, "Rather than seeing differences, they enjoyed each other as people with something in common. They begged to extend the program but this couldn't be worked out."

"The program," she added, "has brought out that color makes a pleasant variety rather than a threatening difference."

The experimental program was sponsored by the human relations departments at Muskegon Heights High School, which has some 600 black students among an enrollment of 1,057, and Monda Shores, which has six Negroes in a student body of 1,750.

Opposing Present Parochial Bill

ALLEGAN (AP) — A parochial bill providing direct tax relief for parents of children attending church schools is favored by the Michigan chapter of the American Independent Party, a party official said Thursday.

Vice Chairman James W. Clark of Allegan said the party is opposed to the primary parochial bill now before the legislature.

But he said the alternate bill would provide "much-needed financial relief to parents who choose to have their children receive Christian training in school." At the same time, Clark said the bill would "avoid state control of religious school affairs."

Better Education

The education of the young toward useful, rewarding, and purposeful lives is one of the obligations of society, and in the United States it has become synonymous with training for good citizenship.

The good citizens of Baldwin Township in Delta County on Monday, March 17, will vote in a special election designed to advance the cause of education.

Basically the question is one of combining or consolidating by annexation the school districts of Baldwin and Rock. The result — as with reorganization of smaller school districts into larger ones elsewhere — will bring a larger total enrollment and an improved program with a firmer financial base.

The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., and Baldwin Township resident qualified school electors who are registered will be eligible to vote.

Besides the question of annexing to the Rock Public School District, the voters will have before them the question also of approving an increase in school millage ($1.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation) to match the school millage rate already in effect in the Rock School District.

This will place the support of the schools on an equal basis in both Baldwin and Rock districts — or the one combined district if the proposition is approved. To become effective, however, both questions must carry — both approval of annexation and the millage boost.

The advice to voters would be, therefore, to vote yes on both propositions if they wish the annexation to carry; for a "split" vote would be a nullifying vote.

"A better school system for all," should be uppermost in the minds of the voters of Baldwin Township when they go to the polls on Monday, says Walter McClintock, superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District.

The Baldwin District has a high school at Perkins; there is a high school at Rock; and Education Consultant Joseph Hampton asked a gathering of citizens at Perkins: "Can we do the job of educating as well alone as by combining the two districts?" Annexation in general may not cut the cost of education, but the students would have the advantage of a better education, he added.

Baldwin School District Superintendent Gene DeKeyser phrased the basic problem this way: "An accredited school will offer students a wider range of subjects, and both Baldwin and Rock have 'a great deal to contribute toward a better overall system — Rock needs us as much as we need them.'"

Tentatively the plan would be: Junior High School, comprising both Rock and Perkins, will be in Perkins; the high school for both will be in Rock; present grade schools will remain where they are.

No school district or community or area likes to lose its identity, yet in an age when education is imperative and the quality of education is even more important in a highly complex and competitive society, the combining of school districts is essential. Experience has proven that the job of educating can be better done in districts large enough to support a better educational program.

Toward Equality

Minority groups constitute 15 per cent of the total U. S. population. Yet according to Howard Samuels, director of the Small Business Administration, the best estimate of the number of black- or other minority-owned businesses is from 50,000 to 150,000 out of a total business population of 5.2 million, or from 1 to 3 per cent.

If minorities participated proportionately, they would own 750,000 businesses, or at least 600,000 more than they do now.

Negro business ownership, which is largely confined to marginal enterprises such as barber-shops, small restaurants, corner groceries, beauty shops, bargain shops, bars and pool halls, actually declined by an over-all 20 per cent between 1950 and 1960.

Of the 24 million blacks in America, more than 75 per cent live in urban areas. The total Negro market is $24 billion a year, but Negro business serves, at highest estimates, only 10 to 15 per cent of that market.

While Washington, D. C., is 65 per cent black, its Negro business community numbers only 2,000 out of a total 28,000. Put another way, one of every 40 whites is a proprietor, but only one in about 150 blacks.

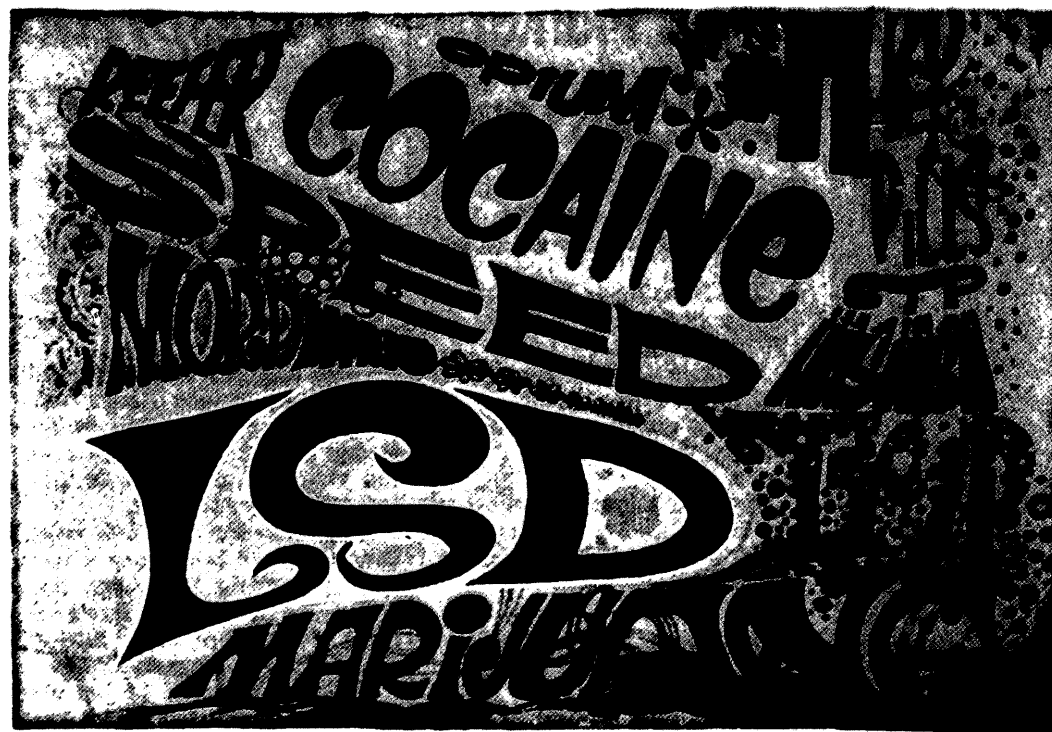

In Harlem, where as many as 53 to 60 per cent of the businesses are Negro-owned, 80 to 85 per cent of the gross volume of business is done by white, non-resident businessmen. Here, as in other cities, money flows out of the ghetto and only trickles back.

There are a lot more statistics of the same nature. The foregoing, however, are sufficient to underscore the significance of President Nixon's executive order setting up a Minority Business Enterprise program. Within the Commerce Department, an information center and an advisory council to co-ordinate some 116 government programs in the field that are scattered among 20 different departments and agencies.

The aim, said the president, is to give Negroes, Mexican-Americans and other minorities equal opportunity "at the top of the ladder as well as on its lower rungs."

Some civil right leaders have criticized the idea of "black capitalism" on the ground that it smacks of economic apartheid and would tend to perpetuate the ghettos.

The continued absence of black capitalism promises to do no better. Until minorities develop some capitalistic sinews of their own, they will remain beggars at the gates of equality.

Marijuana Illegal And Prison Bait

Associated Press Science Writer
 By ALTON BLAKESLEE

One indisputable fact every teenager should know about marijuana is that it's against the law.

Under federal statutes, mere possession of the drug for personal use is a felony. Conviction can mean two to ten years in prison, loss of civil rights and a criminal record that will dog you for the rest of your life.

Some state laws are even more severe.

Recently, federal law was changed imposing stiff penalties for simply having LSD on your person, or for possessing pep pills, barbiturates or tranquilizers unless they had personally been prescribed for you. Laws governing illegal manufacture, sale and distribution of various mind-influencing drugs also were made more severe.

"I've had to pick up the pieces of boys and girls in trouble from using drugs," says a psychiatrist at a well known university, "and it isn't pleasant."

How many youths are getting into health trouble through mind-drug use isn't known. (Abuse of alcohol, which affects the brain, has resulted in six million alcoholics.)

Youths Easily Harmed
 Young people are more easily harmed than their elders by hallucinogenic and other drugs, partly because they have "a yet-uncrystallized system of personality," a psychiatrist says.

"The kids who shouldn't use drugs are the ones most likely to do so and to become hurt," says Dr. Martin D. Kleber, Yale psychiatrist.

"It's possible you can use some drug and be one of the seven or eight out of 10 who won't get hurt. But do you know whether you won't be the odd man out? With LSD, you don't know but what one trip might cause damage," he adds.

While most people who smoke pot occasionally do so with no apparent harm, physicians have reported some instances of bad reactions, such as "having the horrors" for several hours afterward.

Vary In Potency

Reactions also vary because the reeferers available to most youngsters vary in potency — and some are simply nothing but some weed, others may be laced with a stronger drug.

Pot is insidious because it creates a false sense of well-being due to impairment of critical judgment, says Dr. Abraham Wikler, University of Kentucky psychiatrist. Marijuana and LSD make it possible to avoid problems, to evade reality, he says, but "real life requires critical judgment."

"We don't know the answers to questions about the long-term use of marijuana," says Dr. John C. Ball, sociologist formerly with the U. S. Public Health Service's Addiction Research Center in Lexington, Ky., and now at Temple University. "We don't have good information on college students who use it daily for four years or so."

In some countries abroad, like North Africa where more powerful hashish is available, there are "skid rows" of habitues using the drug regularly. They are vagabonds, withdrawn from society, some of them are mentally disturbed. Whether the drug actually caused this is argued by medical people.

LSD A Bigger Risk

The health casualty rate from LSD is far higher and more apparent than from marijuana. Bad trips or freak-outs have sent a small parade of youths to hospitals with panic reactions, or with psychotic episodes that last days, weeks or months.

At New York City's Bellevue Hospital, more than 130 patients were treated for LSD-induced psychoses in an 18-month period, says Dr. Donald B. Louria, president of the New York State Council on Drug Addiction. Even after treatment, one-sixth of them were not sent home, but on to other institutions for more prolonged treatment.

Similar figures are reported by medical groups in other areas of the country. Curiously, some LSD users have "flashbacks" — they relive a former LSD trip, good or bad, weeks or many months later. When this happens, some wonder if they are losing their minds. This may imply that LSD can set off some chronic process in the human brain.

Some Suicides
 LSD has driven a few persons to intentional suicide. Fantasies inspired by LSD have led others to death by jumping out windows or walking on highways in the belief they could fly, or had become invisible.

"The trouble with LSD is that once they've taken it, people are not objective anymore — they don't see themselves accurately anymore," says one drug authority.

"It is inadvisable for an individual who takes even one dose of LSD to make a major decision about himself for at least three months," says the director of one university's health services.

Hazards In Other Drugs

The claim that LSD sessions lead to creativity in art, music or writing is not supported by most objective observers. Many say the work produced during a session is shoddy, or that after a trip the person doesn't produce anything from the visions and insights prompted by the drug.

Enthusiasm for LSD has cooled since scientific reports began appearing that the drug may damage a person's chromosomes — the carriers of hereditary traits.

This could mean that people who use or have used LSD might produce babies with congenital defects, although there is no proof yet that LSD actually does have such effects.

Other mind drugs are not always as safe as devotees may picture them.

Morning glory seeds have caused psychotic reactions, delirium, and anxiety in some young people. Peyote has been blamed for or associated with anxiety and other reactions.

Barbiturates and sedatives cause numerous deaths, especially when mixed with other drugs or with alcohol, or because the person forgets how much of the drug he has already taken.

And some people become psychologically dependent upon pep pills to start out each day. In college, or in their careers. Large doses used to stay awake can induce dangerous delusions, as in one truck driver who thought that someone was chasing him with a gun. He wrecked his truck,

LENDING YOUR CAR

It is common courtesy, when you lend your car to a friend, to fill it up first with gas. But what about checking the brakes or inspecting the tires? If the car is defective and there is an accident, are you legally liable for the consequences?

You may be indeed. Take this case:

A man allowed the woman next door — an inexperienced driver — to borrow his car. Although he knew it had a "grabby" clutch, he didn't tell her so. During the ride she lost control of the car, crashed into a tree, and suffered painful injuries.

She later sued him for damages, and the court decided he must pay for his negligence. The judge said that, under the circumstances, this was the kind of accident he could reasonably have foreseen and prevented.

What if there is an injury not to the borrower but to some third party whom you don't even know? Even then, you might incur liability.

Thus, a man who loaned a car with faulty brakes, without giving fair warning to the borrower, was held responsible for the resulting death of a schoolboy. The fatal accident occurred when, at a crucial moment, the brakes gave way.

That does not mean you have to make a thorough examination of your car before lending it, to discover defects you would not ordinarily know about. Accordingly, a car owner was held not to blame when the steering gear — seemingly all right until then — suddenly jammed while a friend was using the car.

Nor must you warn a borrower about things he can and should see for himself. A man who loaned a car with a dirty windshield was held not responsible for a later collision. The court said he had a right to assume that the borrower would have enough sense to clean the windshield on his own.

All the law demands is that you show, along with your generosity in lending the car, a decent concern for the safety of other people. As one court said:

"When a person lends, he ought to confer a benefit and not do a mischief."

DEBIOUS HONOR?

A recent article in the Press told of a Delta County resident being the first person to hit a deer with his snow machine.

This is not true, Howard A. Hewitt, former sheriff of Schoolcraft County and a Manitowish resident had this dubious honor in the winter of 1968. Hewitt stated that his brakes failed on his Evinrude Snow Machine and the result was a startled and up-set whitetail.

This event happened in the Smith Creek country in Schoolcraft County and Hewitt reported that both deer and driver were able to seek their own treatment. His machine was almost a total wreck. Indian Lake Ski-Do Club Hiawatha Chapter D. A. McArthur — recording secretary king and ace of clubs and eventually lead a spade toward his king. Down one!

An intermediate player will recognize the chance of setting up clubs and will play out three rounds of clubs. If West holds the long club everything will be fine but East wins it and leads a spade. Down one!

An advanced player will make a better effort. He will lead a club from dummy with the intention of finessing his 10. An alert East will spoil this plan by rising with the jack of clubs. He will get in with a club eventually and lead that spade. Still down one!

The expert will make his contract. He will simply let West hold the first trick by playing low from dummy. If hearts are continued the expert will wind up with all the rest of the tricks. He will discard a club on the ace of hearts, cash the top clubs, ruff a club and discard both his spades on dummy's last two clubs.

Somehow we think that most West players would go on to five hearts and save at the cost of not more than 100 points, or else come out with a profit if North and South went on to six diamonds.

I would be immensely disappointed if the United States, a nation as rich as this, did not want to be part of such a great adventure. . . . The reasons we are not solving the problems on earth is because we don't want it. The space program is costing only six-tenths of one per cent of the gross national product. — Dr. Harold C. Girl Friend Fills In What Mother Denies

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed Sick Of Sex And Hungry For Love could have been written by my wife. I'm sure she didn't write it, however, because she wouldn't expend the energy.

After our third child was born, she said, "Why can't we just kiss and let it go at that?" How do you like that for a 35-year-old woman?

Whenever I get amorous she says, "All right, hurry up and satisfy your animal passions and get it over with." She should be glad that I am at least satisfying my animal passions at home. If it weren't for our wonderful kids I would have left my wife long ago.

I've agreed to go with her to a clergyman, a psychiatrist or a marriage counselor but she says, "Men always stick together. I couldn't win."

I don't need advice. It's too late for that. I'm just writing to prove there are two sides to every coin. Perhaps I should sign my letter, "Sick Of Sex And Hungry For Love." Men need to feel wanted and needed, too. — BATTING ZERO

Dear Bat: A wife who wants to "kiss and let it go at that" hands her husband an engraved invitation to go elsewhere. My condolences to you, sir, and to her, my best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 14-year-old girl who has been reading your column ever since I was 11. My mother doesn't think your column is fit for anyone who is not married. Mom always gets the paper first. When she comes across something she doesn't want me to see she tears it out. Whenever I see a hole in the paper I call up my girl friend and ask her to bring your column to school so I can see what Mom is hiding. It's always about sex.

My question is this: Can a 16-year-old boy make a 14-year-old girl pregnant if she keeps all her clothes on? — MISS TAKEN

Dear Miss: The answer to your question is yes. And I hope you will ask your school counselor or a favorite teacher to answer any other questions which might occur to you. (P.S. If you've been reading my column regularly, Toots, how come you haven't been paying any attention to my advice?)

Insurer Must Report Insurance Lapse

Senate Passes Bill Removing $1 Fee

LANSING (AP) — Insured motorists would not have to dig up that extra $1 for the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund when they buy license plates under a bill passed Thursday in the Senate.

The bill also includes provision that an insurer must notify the secretary of state of any cancellation or lapse of insurance, so motorists would not be able to escape the $35 uninsured motorist fee.

The measure now faces action in the House, which already has passed a similar proposal. The House bill, however, removes the $1 fee for only two years and some observers predict a real hassle over the question.

Senators also gave final approval to a bill outlawing vandalism in public parks. That measure provides that any person convicted of destroying public property in a public park must pay three times the amount of damage, as determined by a court.

Full Time Employment At 17
 Under terms of another bill passed Thursday, 17-year-olds having obtained a high school diploma would be eligible to find fulltime employment. The State Board of Education supported the proposal, saying it could help put more youngsters in college.

Moved into position for a final vote was a bill allowing minors to seek treatment for venereal disease without consent of their parents. The House has passed a similar bill.

The Senate proposal provides that a doctor could treat a minor patient for VD and could not be obligated to notify his parents.

"I'm all in favor of minors getting treatment for VD," said Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy. "The doctor should be able to treat it immediately."

"But I question whether or not this sort of information should be withheld from the parents. You're taking away from some parents their responsibility."

Punish Students
 Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, sponsor of the measure, said it was aimed at "protecting youngsters who fear telling their parents" they have VD.

Another bill advanced on the Senate calendar would allow public health nurses to administer immunization shots without a doctor being present.

"Just because a doctor is standing there doesn't mean the shots will be given any better," said Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-DeARBorn.

Meanwhile, a bill aimed at punishing students involved in disruption of campus activities or seizure of property at state institutions of higher learning was introduced by Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson.

The bill would revoke state support from any students at state colleges and universities who were convicted of such offenses or of "intentionally" disobeying rules set up by the institution's governing board.

Fifth Grade Exam
 Sen. Stanley Rozycski, D-Detroit, proposed an annual statewide examination for fifth grade pupils in public elementary schools of the state.

"One reason why as many as 40 per cent of the pupils fail to finish high school...is because they were not properly grounded in the basic subjects and in time become disturbed students and later frustrated teenagers," Rozycski said.

A statewide examination, he suggested, might "show the proficiency and effectiveness of our elementary school teaching staffs."

Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, sponsored a resolution that would lower the voting age in Michigan from 21 to 18.

Hickel Plays Poacher's Role
 EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, opening his battle to save the alligator, assumed the role of a poacher in a nighttime training exercise—and escaped detection.

Hickel joined rangers for the hour-long drill in a remote section of the swampy Everglades Thursday night.

"I wanted to find out how a poacher operates. And now I know," the secretary said after he and the park's assistant chief ranger, Dick Stokes, came out of hiding.

"This has showed me how easy it is for the poacher to get away," said Hickel, who was told earlier that the final 20,000 alligators face extinction unless their slaughter is stopped.

"I feel that enforcement is not the answer. Only legislation can solve this problem," Hickel added.

Several bills are pending in Congress that would make possession of alligator hides and their distribution a federal offense.

The Everglades gator colony, estimated at one million strong in 1900, is reduced annually by the thousands through poaching. Park rangers said the poachers can earn up to $300 a night.

During his tour of the park, Hickel saw a film showing an alligator being slaughtered and was told that a regular army of some 200 poachers work in the Everglades—almost with impunity.

Litter and trash thrown in lakes and streams lowers the quality of the environment and harms fish and plant life. A recent survey of the 50 state fish and game departments revealed that the mess left behind by litterbugs was a major reason for the closing of a number of fishing waters and hunting grounds in over ten states.

Unanswered Questions Over Academy Nominees

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With studied solemnity, the voters of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences file into the Academy theater daily and nightly to view the candidates for the 41st annual awards.

Some Academy members gorge themselves on four long movies in an afternoon and evening, trying to catch up on the year's product. There is no way to gauge how the voters feel, because they never applaud and seldom laugh at the films they see.

The results of their viewing won't be known until the Price, Waterhouse man hands over the sealed envelopes on the stage of the Los Angeles Music Center on the evening of April 14.

All signs point to an air of unpredictability. The nominations portended that Hollywood is still buzzing with questions about unexpected results of the nominations. Among them:

Why wasn't Mia Farrow nominated as best actress for "Rosemary's Baby"? (Does Frank Sinatra have that many friends among the voters?)

If "Rachel, Rachel" won nominations as best picture and for Joanne Woodward as best actress, why was Paul Newman overlooked for best director?

Why did the voters give "Funny Girl" eight nominations but none for its director, William Wyler? (Or should Barbara Streisand have been listed as co-director?)

How could Jack Albertson be listed for best supporting actor when he played the most important male role in three-character "The Subject Was Roses"?

How could the voters have overlooked Walter Matthau's classic performance in "The Odd

Couple"? (Did Alan Bates have a better press campaign for "The Fixer"?)

Didn't Lynn Carlin play the lead in "Faces"? (Of course she did, but she is up for best supporting actress.)

Why did "Star!" win seven nominations, but not one in a major category? (If the parts were so outstanding, why wasn't the whole?)

How could the voters give four nominations to "Romeo and Juliet," including best picture and best direction, then ignore the author? (Couldn't he afford a press agent?)

Adult Educators Meet At MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) —The emerging power of young adults, hunger, poverty, civil rights—all will be topics of discussion March 30 - April 3 as some 100 of the nation's specialists in adult or continuing education gather at Michigan State University.

The theme of this 12th annual seminar for college and university leaders in continuing education is "toward the impossible dream."

Ryan Against Pick 'N Choose Abortion Law

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker William A. Ryan, a prominent Roman Catholic layman, says he would rather have no reference to abortion in Michigan law than approve a measure "for picking and choosing which life would be taken."

Abortion law reform proposals—one calling for a sweeping change with few restrictions, the other setting up specifications for legal abortions—were introduced earlier this week in the Senate.

A law providing for legal abortion under specified circumstances would "have no practical effect," Ryan said Thursday.

"From a practical standpoint, it probably would not make any difference what we do. There are (people) who are not cooperating (with the law) and do not wish to cooperate. And there is a majority of the medical society which is unwilling to cooperate."

"When you have that type of situation you cannot enforce the law," Ryan said. "We now have almost unlimited abortion, and we still would have under any further legislation."

"The law is hardly enforceable."

Ryan said he felt any liberalized abortion law would be "inconsistent with the concept that it is a taking of a life."

Director Sought After 2nd Hit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — He is sandy haired and quiet spoken, and you'd never suspect that he could tame such strong spirits as Katharine Hepburn and Peter O'Toole. But he did and now he's reaping the rewards.

Anthony Harvey's telephone rang so often as he tried taking his ease beside the Beverly Hills Hotel pool that he finally told the operator to hold the calls. The gist of the messages, most of them from total strangers: "Tony, baby, I've got a great script for ya..."

Harvey answered each call politely, vowing to read the scripts when they were sent to him.

Take To Beach
"I've got to take a house at the beach to get away from the telephone and try to do some reading," said the English-born director. "It's the only way I'll be able to make a decision about the next picture."

Harvey's last picture—the second he ever directed—was "The Lion in Winter," and that's the reason he has been inundated by more than a hundred scripts. His accomplishment was signaled by his winning of the Directors Guild award for best picture of 1968. Since the Guild winner has coincided with the Academy Award for best director during the past 15 years, he qualifies as front-runner for the Oscar.

Like Lewis Milestone, Robert Wise and many other noted directors, Harvey was a film editor, the man who puts together the finished movie.

Costs $3 Million
Harvey completed "The Lion in Winter" in 14 weeks at a cost of $3 million. He admitted that Hepburn and O'Toole clashed both off camera and on, adding: "But they always made up immediately afterward. Fortunately both have great sense of humor."

What's next for the 38-year-old director?

"I'd like to do a musical, perhaps in Hollywood. Not a big Broadway production, because most of those often end up neither fish nor fowl. The best of the musicals have been originals: 'Meet Me in St. Louis,' 'An American in Paris,' 'Singin' in the Rain,' 'Seven Brides for Seven Brothers.'"

"It seems to me an exciting new musical could be made, using contemporary composers like Jim Webb or Burt Bacharach. That's the sort of thing I would like to do, so I won't get typed in historical dramas."

Pure gold is 24 carats.

Unanswered Questions Over Academy Nominees

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With studied solemnity, the voters of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences file into the Academy theater daily and nightly to view the candidates for the 41st annual awards.

Some Academy members gorge themselves on four long movies in an afternoon and evening, trying to catch up on the year's product. There is no way to gauge how the voters feel, because they never applaud and seldom laugh at the films they see.

The results of their viewing won't be known until the Price Waterhouse man hands over the sealed envelopes on the stage of the Los Angeles Music Center on the evening of April 14.

All signs point to an air of unpredictability. The nominations portended that Hollywood is still buzzing with questions about unexpected results of the nominations. Among them:

Why wasn't Mia Farrow nominated as best actress for "Rosemary's Baby"? (Does Frank Sinatra have that many friends among the voters?)

If "Rachel, Rachel" won nominations as best picture and for Joanne Woodward as best actress, why was Paul Newman overlooked for best director?

Why did the voters give "Funny Girl" eight nominations but none for its director, William Wyler? (Or should Barbra Streisand have been listed as co-director?)

How could Jack Albertson be listed for best supporting actor when he played the most important male role in three-character "The Subject Was Roses"?

How could the voters have overlooked Walter Matthau's classic performance in "The Odd

Couple"? (Did Alan Bates have a better press campaign for "The Fixer"?)

Didn't Lynn Carlin play the lead in "Faces"? (Of course she did, but she is up for best supporting actress.)

Why did "Start!'" win seven nominations, but not one in a major category? (If the parts were so outstanding, why wasn't the whole?)

How could the voters give four nominations to "Romeo and Juliet," including best picture and best direction, then ignore the author? (Couldn't he afford a press agent?)

MANISTIQUE

Brown, Joslin Plead Not Guilty

Several arraignments were conducted in Judge Charles A. Stark's District Courtroom this past week with trial dates set for next week.

LaVerne P. Brown, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to four separate charges when he appeared in District Court. Three of the charges — leaving the scene of a property damage accident, disorderly, and driving while under the influence of intoxicants — will be decided in a trial on March 18 in District Court. Brown is also contesting a speeding citation and will appear on March 20 in connection with this charge.

Homer D. Joslin III, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to a disorderly charge and a traffic citation for excessive noise. Trial was set for this morning.

Brown and Joslin were arrested together by Public Safety officers last week when a car Brown was driving allegedly struck a parked auto on Range St. Both were committed to the Schoolcraft County Jail when they were unable to furnish bond. However, bond was discharged at their arraignment and both were released on their personal recognizance.

Drop Forgery Charge

Trial dates were also set for Michael K. Hyland, Rte. 1, Manistique, careless driving, who will appear March 18; Bruce Henry, Rte. 1, Manistique, driving with a revoked license, trial date: March 14.

Michael D. Cournaya, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to charges of failure to yield right-of-way and defective brakes. No trial date was set.

Charges were dismissed against LaMar Carlson who pleaded not guilty to forgery. The charges were dismissed when restitution of $32.45 was made. Carlson was arrested on complaint of Clifford Rose of Germfask who received a check from Carlson in the amount of $32.45.

In other minor traffic cases, fines and costs were paid by William N. Englebrecht, Birmingham; Reuben Kavala, Royal Oak; Keith Burch, Gladstone; Joan R. Lippincott, Marquette; John A. Weatherbee, Milwaukee; Allen H. Swanson, Menominee; and David Mineau, Oconto, all $10 and $8 for speeding.

Speeding

Other fines and costs for speeding were paid by Christopher J. Szwed, Birmingham; Vilho C. Olli, Grand Marais; Abel J. Rubio, Detroit, $15 and $10 each; Charles N. Kreig, Marquette; Edward L. LaVance, 738 Arbutus Ave.; Thomas G. Osterhout, Ithaca; Ray G. Rice, Gulliver, $10 and $10.

In other cases: Billy D. Buckler, Marquette, expired operators license, $5 and $5; Herbert Rosen, 627 Manistique Ave., non-stop, $10 and $10; Leon E. Jenerou, Tannery Location, no registration, $5 and $5; Randy Chandler, Cooks, intentional excessive noise, $10 and $8; Judith Ann Paradise, 520 N. Mackinac Ave., expired operators license; Rosalind M. Matcalf, Newberry, failure to signal.

Jaycees Play Texas Cowgirls

Tickets are still available for Saturday night's contest between the Texas Cowgirls and an all-star Jaycee basketball team.

The game, sponsored by the Manistique Jaycees with proceeds going to support Jaycee-sponsored youth programs, will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the new gym of the high school.

Pre-game tickets are priced at $1 for adults and $1.00 for students. If tickets are purchased at the door, the price is increased 25 cents.

The Texas Cowgirls are nationally famous girls' basketball team and play men's rules.

Briefly Told

State Police report a property damage accident which occurred at 8:40 p.m. Wednesday in Germfask. Cars driven by Randall R. McLaren, Rte. 1, Germfask, and William W. Berry, Germfask, collided when the McLaren vehicle pulled out of a private driveway and struck the Berry auto. No injuries were reported.

BARMECIDE FEAST

The term "Barmecide feast," as an illusion of plenty, stems from the story told in the "Arabian Nights" of one member of the Barmecides, a wealthy Persian family, who invited a hungry beggar to a feast and made a pretense of serving and eating imaginary viands, hence an illusion of plenty.

turn, $5 and $5.

Also: Gerald A. DuFour, 603 Garden Ave., expired registration plates, $5 and $5; Larry W. Davidson, 204 Steuben Ave., excessive muffler noise, $2 and $3; George E. Carroll, Thompson, excessive noise, $5 costs.

Bond forfeits were recorded for James A. Davidson, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., $15; Fernand Bouget, Winnipeg, Canada, $14; and Sam Rouman, Windsor, Ont., $10.

Littering on a public highway drew an assessment of $15 and costs of $10 for Robert J. Becks of Newberry, A Muskegon man, Marvin L. Douglas, paid $10 and $10 on charges of speeding and an identical fine for no proof of insurance.

Rev. Mendelsohn Will Speak On Alaskan Ministry

Rev. Randall Mendelsohn

Rev. Randall Mendelsohn, rector of St. John's Church, Negaunee, will discuss his ministry in the Alaskan frontier for the Women of St. Alban's Church next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Rev. Mendelsohn served at Tanana, Allakaket and at St. Peter's Church in Seward after receiving a BA degree from the University of Connecticut. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from Bexley Hall and was ordained in 1955.

Mrs. Kenneth Connor and Miss Arlene Gordianer head the hostess committee for Tuesday night. The program will be held in the church undercroft.

Inland Lake Ice In Good Shape

Weatherwise, the eastern U.P. is waning toward spring but without it's bumps.

The balmy February weather is over and Lionish March shows its teeth with temperatures ranging from 10 below to 50 above. We have also had a few intermittent snow flurries the past few days.

Ice conditions on inland lakes are excellent with very little snow cover. Ice is considered good on the Great Lake's bays and connecting waters. There are pressure cracks and ridges on Whitefish Bay where precaution should be taken when crossing. Beware of changing strong winds. You could find yourself drifting toward Canada.

Lake trout bobbing continues to be very good on Whitefish Bay between Salt Point and Bay Mills. Ice ranges from 6 to 18" thick. Limit catches of trout are being made using smelt for bait. Some of the better catches are made in water 150 to 180 feet deep. Early morning.

The ciscoes are still biting on Whitefish (South Manistique) Lake though the size run is small (10-16").

A few menominees are being speared in West Bay at Grand Marais.

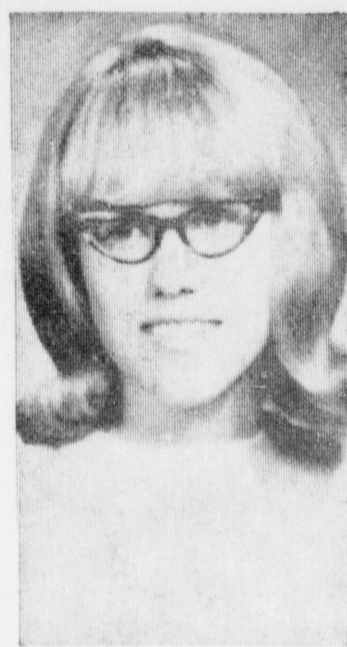

Runeberg Lodge Supports Center

Financial aid and moral support to the Senior Citizens Service Center was unanimously endorsed by the local Runeberg Lodge at their Tuesday night meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jorgenson, 650 Arbutus Ave.

The Lodge went on record endorsing the county board of supervisor's sponsorship and implied financial assistance to the Senior Citizens Service Center and applauded their host, Edward Jorgenson, a member of the county board, who supported the action.

City councilmen Thor Reque and William Wedegartner were commended for their support of the Center in voting for a requested grant. Mayor Leo Demars, who voted against the request but pledged personal financial support of $100 was also commended.

A $20 contribution to the CBC Drive, which will benefit three local charitable agencies, was also approved by the Lodge.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Linda Lou Olsen to Robert J. Benish is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Olsen of Gulliver, Mr. and Mrs. John Benish, 624 Arbutus Ave., are the parents of the prospective bridegroom. The couple attended Manistique High School and Mr. Benish is now employed by the Gulliver Steamship Co. A June 14 wedding date has been selected.

Three Retire From Inland

Feb. 1 marked the retirement of three employees of the Inland Lime and Stone Co. with a combined employment record of 87 years.

James Rodgers of Gulliver, who began his employment with Inland on Aug. 7, 1933, retired as a loader truck operator at the harbor. Rodgers worked as a locomotive operator during his first 18 years of inland service.

Helmer Mattlin of Gulliver retired after 27 years as a quarry blacksmith. Mattlin began his employment with Inland on April 4, 1942.

Reuben Swanson, 930 Deer St., held various jobs in the mill at Inland around the conveyors and in the tunnels until his retirement. He began working for Inland on June 10, 1946 as a repairman and helper in the mechanical department and transferred to the mill job in 1958.

Rodgers and Mattlin were members of Inland's 25-Year Club.

'Up With People!' CBC's Slogan

"Up With People! Don't Give Just To Give: Give As You Have Been Given!" has been adopted as the slogan of the county-wide fund-raising drive which will benefit three local charitable organizations.

A March 30 radiothon from the St. Francis Parish Center will kick off the drive for funds for Bay Cliff Health Camp, the local Cancer Society and local chapter of Crippled Children and Adults (Easter Seals).

Drive co-chairman Father Daniel C. Zaloga is urging local residents to lend their support in three ways:

Volunteering their time and effort by a door-to-door solicitation which will follow the radiothon. Mrs. Roland Hoholik may be contacted at 341-2538 relative to anyone so interested.

Financial support is necessary, of course. Father Zaloga said, and asked that people remember they are contributing to three causes and not just one and contribute accordingly.

Radio talent is needed for the radiothon and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Richard Marsh at 283-2794 to volunteer their services.

The general public is invited to attend the radiothon in the St. Francis Parish Center. Refreshments will be served and those attending will be able to

The March meeting of the Lemmer PTA will be held Monday at the school. Members are to meet in the multipurpose room at 7:30 p. m. for one half hour of organized room visitation on reading and science, which has been arranged by the teachers.

Following the visitation the group will return to the multipurpose room for a brief meeting and program. Guest speaker for the evening is Arnold J. Korpi, MEA field representative for the Upper Peninsula who will speak on Parochialism. The public is invited to hear Mr. Korpi.

Arnold J. Korpi has been the MEA field representative to the entire Upper Peninsula since 1964. Prior to joining the MEA, Korpi was a teacher at Wakefield high school. He is a graduate of Northern Michigan University with a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Korpi began his teaching career at Rockland high school in 1944. In 1948 he joined the Wakefield school system as a teacher of business education. During the 1963 school year he also taught at Gogebic Community College.

A member of the National and Michigan Education Associations, Korpi has served on the MEA Board of Directors. He has also served on the MEA Professional Problems Commission and the board of directors of the Michigan Education Special Services Association, the group insurance program of the MEA.

Korpi was the first president of the Wakefield chapter of the MEA. He is also a past-president of the Gogebic County District of the MEA, a past-president of MEA Region 18, and the Upper Peninsula Business Teachers' Association.

Active in community organizations, Korpi is a past-president of the Wisconsin Alumni Association and a member of the Northern Michigan University "N" Club. He was chairman of the Gogebic County TB Association seal sale for six years and was a member of the Gogebic Community College Advisory Board.

Couples Club Theater Party

Members of the Couples Club of the Central United Methodist Church are to meet at the church at 8 p. m. Saturday so that Rev. Selberg can talk to the group prior to the viewing of the movie, "The Impossible Years."

Following the movie the group will return to the church for a discussion and lunch. Serving on the committee this month are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bolm and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bergquist.

Story Time On Saturday

All boys and girls of the age of three and above are invited to attend Story Time, this week. The program will be held in the Children's Room of Escanaba Public Library at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The stories will be: "The Remnant Egg", "Penny Penny", and "Little Bear Marches in the St. Patrick's Day Parade".

Pasty Sale
The Trenary basketball team will sell pasties on Saturday, March 15. Orders are being taken by team members.

There will be a lyceum program at the Trenary School Tuesday, March 18 at 1:30 p. m. in the gymnasium.

William Harris has been spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harris. He will return to Vietnam for an additional eight months of duty as a member of the Air Force Blue Berets.

MANISTIQUE

Brown, Joslin Plead Not Guilty

Several arraignments were conducted in Judge Charles A. Stark's District Courtroom this past week with trial dates set for next week.

LaVerne P. Brown, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to four separate charges when he appeared in District Court. Three of the charges — leaving the scene of a property damage accident, disorderly, and driving while under the influence of intoxicants — will be decided in a trial on March 18 in District Court. Brown is also contesting a speeding citation and will appear on March 20 in connection with this charge.

Homer D. Joslin III, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to a disorderly charge and a traffic citation for excessive noise. Trial was set for this morning.

Brown and Joslin were arrested together by Public Safety officers last week when a car Brown was driving allegedly struck a parked auto on Range St. Both were committed to the Schoolcraft County Jail when they were unable to furnish bond. However, bond was discharged at their arraignment and both were released on their personal recognizance.

Drop Forgery Charge

Trial dates were also set for Michael K. Hyland, Rte. 1, Manistique, careless driving, who will appear March 18; Bruce Henry, Rte. 1, Manistique, driving with a revoked license, trial date: March 14; Michael D. Courmay, Rte. 1, Manistique, pleaded not guilty to charges of failure to yield right-of-way and defective brakes. No trial date was set.

Charges were dismissed against LaMar Carlson who pleaded not guilty to forgery. The charges were dismissed when restitution of $32.45 was made. Carlson was arrested on complaint of Clifford Rose of Germfask who received a check from Carlson in the amount of $32.45.

In other minor traffic cases, fines and costs were paid by William N. Englebrecht, Birmingham; Reuben Kavala, Royal Oak; Keith Burch, Gladstone; Joan R. Lippincott, Milwaukee; John A. Weatherbee, Milwaukee; Allen H. Swanson, Daggett; Kenneth G. Casper, Menominee; and David Mineau, Oconto, all $10 and $8 for speeding.

Speeding

Other fines and costs for speeding were paid by Christopher J. Szew, Birmingham; Vilho C. Olli, Grand Marais; Abel J. Rubio, Detroit, $15 and $10 each; Charles N. Kreig, Marquette; Edward L. LaVance, 738 Arbutus Ave.; Thomas G. Osterhout, Ithaca; Ray G. Rice, Gulliver, $10 and $10.

In other cases: Billy D. Buckler, Marquette, expired operators license, $5 and $5; Herbert Rosen, 627 Manistique Ave., non-stop, $10 and $10; Leon E. Jenerow, Tannery Location, no registration, $5 and $5; Randy Chandler, Cooks, intentional excessive noise, $10 and $8; Judith Ann Paradise, 520 N. Mackinac Ave., expired operators license; Rosalind M. Matcalf, Newberry, failure to signal.

Jaycees Play Texas Cowgirls

Tickets are still available for Saturday night's contest between the Texas Cowgirls and an all-star Jaycee basketball team.

The game, sponsored by the Manistique Jaycees with proceeds going to support Jaycee-sponsored youth programs, will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the gym of the high school.

Pre-game tickets are priced at $1 for adults and $1.00 for students. If tickets are purchased at the door, the price is increased 25 cents.

The Texas Cowgirls are nationally famous girls' basketball team and play men's rules.

Briefly Told

State Police report a property damage accident which occurred at 8:40 p. m. Wednesday in Germfask. Cars driven by Randall R. McLaren, Rte. 1, Germfask, and William W. Berry, Germfask, collided when the McLaren vehicle pulled out of a private driveway and struck the Berry auto. No injuries were reported.

BARMCEIDE FEAST

The term "Barmceide feast," as an illusion of plenty, stems from the story told in the "Arabian Nights" of one member of the Barmceides, a wealthy Persian family, who invited a hungry beggar to a feast and made a pretense of serving and eating imaginary viands, hence an illusion of plenty.

turn, $5 and $5.

Also: Gerald A. DuFour, 603 Garden Ave., expired registration plates, $5 and $5; Larry W. Davidson, 204 Steuben Ave., excessive muffler noise, $2 and $3; George E. Carroll, Thompson, excessive noise, $5 costs. Bond forfeits were recorded for James A. Davidson, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., $15; Fernand Bouget, Winnipeg, Canada, $14; and Sam Rouman, Windsor, Ont., $10.

Littering

Littering on a public highway drew an assessment of $15 and costs of $10 for Robert J. Becks of Newberry, A. Muskegon man, Marvin L. Douglas, paid $10 and $10 on charges of speeding and an identical fine for no proof of insurance.

Rev. Mendelsohn Will Speak On Alaskan Ministry

Rev. Randall Mendelsohn, rector of St. John's Church, Negaunee, will discuss his ministry in the Alaskan frontier for the Women of St. Alban's Church next Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Rev. Mendelsohn served at Tanana, Allakaket and at St. Peter's Church in Seward after receiving a BA degree from the University of Connecticut. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from Bexley Hall and was ordained in 1955.

Mrs. Kenneth Connor and Miss Arlene Gordanier head the hostess committee for Tuesday night. The program will be held in the church undercroft.

Inland Lake Ice In Good Shape

Weatherwise, the eastern U.P. is waning toward spring but not without it's bumps. The balmy February weather is over and Lionish March shows its teeth with temperatures ranging from 10 below to 50 above. We have also had a few intermittent snow flurries the past few days.

Ice conditions on inland lakes are excellent with very little snow cover. Ice is considered good on the Great Lake's bays and connecting waters. There are pressure cracks and ridges on Whitefish Bay where precaution should be taken when crossing. Beware of changing strong winds. You could find yourself drifting toward Canada.

Lake trout bobbing continues to be very good on Whitefish Bay between Salt Point and Bay Mills. Ice ranges from 6 to 18" thick. Limit catches of trout are being made using smelt for bait. Some of the better catches are made in water 150 to 180 feet deep. Early morning.

The ciscoes are still biting on Whitefish (South Manistique) Lake though the size run is small (10-16").

A few minnows are being speared in West Bay at Grand Marais.

Runeberg Lodge Supports Center

Financial aid and moral support to the Senior Citizens Service Center was unanimously endorsed by the local Runeberg Lodge at their Tuesday night meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jorgenson, 650 Arbutus Ave.

The Lodge went on record endorsing the county board of supervisor's sponsorship and implied financial assistance to the Senior Citizens Service Center and applauded their host, Edward Jorgenson, a member of the county board, who supported the action.

City councilmen Thor Reque and William Wedegartner were commended for their support of the Center in voting for a requested grant. Mayor Leo Demars, who voted against the request but pledged personal financial support of $100 was also commended.

A $20 contribution to the CBC Drive, which will benefit three local charitable agencies, was also approved by the Lodge.

Three Retire From Inland

Feb. 1 marked the retirement of three employees of the Inland Lime and Stone Co. with a combined employment record of 87 years.

James Rodgers of Gulliver, who began his employment with Inland on Aug. 7, 1933, retired as a loader truck operator at the harbor. Rodgers worked as a locomotive operator during his first 18 years of Inland service.

Helmer Mattlin of Gulliver retired after 27 years as a quarry blacksmith. Mattlin began his employment with Inland on April 4, 1942.

Reuben Swanson, 930 Deer St., held various jobs in the mill at Inland around the conveyors and in the tunnels until his retirement. He began working for Inland on June 10, 1946 as a repairman and helper in the mechanical department and transferred to the mill job in 1958.

Rodgers and Mattlin were members of Inland's 25-Year Club.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Linda Lou Olsen to Robert J. Benish is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Olsen of Gulliver. Mr. and Mrs. John Benish, 624 Arbutus Ave., are the parents of the prospective bridegroom. The couple attended Manistique High School and Mr. Benish is now employed by the Gardland Steamship Co. A June 14 wedding date has been selected.

'Up With People!' CBC's Slogan

"Up With People! Don't Give Just To Give: Give As You Have Been Given!" has been adopted as the slogan of the county-wide fund-raising drive which will benefit three local charitable organizations.

A March 30 radiothon from the St. Francis Parish Center will kick off the drive for funds for Bay Cliff Health Camp, the local Cancer Society and local chapter of Crippled Children and Adults (Easter Seals).

Drive co-chairman Father Daniel C. Zaloga is urging local residents to lend their support in three ways:

Volunteering their time and effort by a door-to-door solicitation which will follow the radiothon. Mrs. Roland Honolik may be contacted at 341-2538 relative to anyone so interested.

Financial support is necessary, of course. Father Zaloga said, and asked that people remember they are contributing to three causes and not just one and contribute accordingly.

Radio talent is needed for the radiothon and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Richard Marsh at 283-2794 to volunteer their services.

The general public is invited to attend the radiothon in the St. Francis Parish Center. Refreshments will be served and those attending will be able to watch and listen to the local talent. The radiothon will begin broadcasting at 1 p. m. and conclude at 7 p. m.

A dance for teens in the Parish Center will follow the radiothon.

Wooden Siding Lasts With Proper Care

By MR. FIX

Wooden siding will last a long time if cared for; it will last a long time even with a little neglect. But in the latter case small defects might develop which could lead to more serious trouble later on.

A frequent inspection of siding will prevent trouble. Look for cracks and splitting boards. Notice if boards are warped or loose. Look for open joints.

These will permit moisture to enter, causing paint to peel and eventually causing the siding to rot.

Cracks are easy to repair when they are small. If taken care of there may be no need to replace lengths of siding later on.

Small cracks can be filled with caulking compound or putty (white lead variety). Use enough and pack it in.

With the cracks filled make certain that the edge of the board is tight against the one below. If the board is loose nail it down. Since old siding may split, drill pilot holes for the nails first. When you have the board nailed down as tight as possible, caulk if any space remains.

Countersink the nail heads below the surface and fill the remaining tiny holes with some putty.

Sometimes it is too late to make minor repairs. If any siding is badly split or rotted then it must be replaced. The easiest and neatest way to repair is to remove an entire length of siding and replace it.

Warped boards let in moisture.

If this isn't possible you will have to cut out the bad piece of siding, being careful not to damage the good siding above and below it.

Removal will be easier if you pry up the board before you try cutting it. Drive wedges underneath to lift it. Then cut through the board with a handsaw. A block fastened to the board below right under the saw will prevent damage to the good wood.

With the board cut, drive wedges under the board above. Then get a grip on the cut board and pry it out, splitting it away in sections. If this is too difficult you can break it out with a hammer and chisel. But be careful of the board underneath.

If a small strip of wood remains under the piece of siding above, it can be removed by first cutting the nails holding it with a hack saw. Then dig out the strip.

Cut a new piece of siding so that it matches the old one exactly. Drive it gently into place, placing a block of wood against the lower edge before hammering.

With the new siding in place, nail it down with a few nails along the lower edge. Set these and cover with putty. Paint to match and the job is done.

Years On Death Row Punishing

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Frank Jimmy Snider Jr. wept when he said life in his cell seven feet from the electric chair has been "a living death." He has been in Virginia's death row for 13 years.

From his cell, he said Wednesday, he can "hear the hum of motors, the throwing of the switch and smell the burning flesh."

Snider, in Roanoke Hustings Court for a hearing on a petition for a new trial, contended his frequently scheduled executions and last-minute stays constitute cruel and unusual punishment prohibited by the constitution.

State Attorney Edward S. White, protesting Snider's testimony, said the former Gadsden, Ala., steelworker "is not qualified to testify that the death penalty is cruel unusual punishment as he has not undergone it."

Snider was sentenced to death in 1956 on a charge of raping a 9-year-old child.

In an exchange between White and Snider, the prosecutor said the convict's 13 years on death row have been his own doing, because of legal tactics, and "the commonwealth of Virginia has not kept him there."

Explaining the numerous appeals that have kept him alive, Snider said, "I am not an animal. I want to live."

Tomato Harvest To Be Smaller

LANSING (AP) — There'll be more asparagus, but fewer late summer onions and tomatoes harvested in Michigan this year, if grower plans are carried out.

The State Crop Reporting Service says Michigan's asparagus growers will harvest 13,900 acres for fresh market and processing during 1969. That's 5 per cent more than the previous year.

Onion growers, the service says, plan to harvest 6,400 acres of late summer onion, 400 acres less than last year.

Prospective planted acreage of tomatoes for processing in Michigan totals 5,000 acres, 22 per cent less than in 1968.

Potawatomi Chief Dies

NILES (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Michael B. Williams, 88, a Potawatomi Indian chief who spent much of the last 20 years pressing claims by the Indians against the federal government.

Williams died Tuesday. He said the Indians were owed millions of dollars for land lost to the white man in the 1820s and 1830s.

Williams left home in Hartford when he was 14. He was named chief after he was 60. He moved to Niles 10 years ago from South Bend, Ind.

Survivors include his widow and son, 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Builders Don't Order The Latest In Gadgets

By VIVIAN BROWN

If you can't find the latest kitchen appliances in new houses or apartments, it's because builders don't order them, says kitchen planner William Ketcham.

At a recent kitchen show in New York, Ketcham was surrounded by all sorts of new appliance goodies that were being offered by leading manufacturers—washing machines that at the same time do two loads of laundry, white and colored, dishwashers that do just about everything but clear the table, self-cleaning ovens. But Ketcham's outlook was a bit gloomy.

These new workhorses may be around for quite awhile—five years or more—before the average woman gets to use them because builders order the same old models, he says.

Ketcham has no desire to anger builders. He has worked with them for 14 years in his job with Hotpoint. But their attitude may be slowing up the whole market.

"Builders putting up apartments for sale or rent take a dim view of adding $50 a unit for newer kitchen appliances. They figure they must multiply that 50 by maybe 200 or so units."

Today, anyone putting up a housing unit makes a mistake not installing self-cleaning ovens or easy Teflon-cleaning ovens, he says. The lack of foresight may catch up with them.

"Women want these new conveniences—self-defrosting refrigerators, self-cleaning ovens, dishwashers with pot and pan cycles that include a spotless rinse. Why shouldn't they have them in the new expensive dwellings they buy or rent," he says.

Just the thought of a pre-rinse dishwasher that removes egg and other sticky stuff would send any kitchen mechanic into a spin.

Ketcham had been a commercial artist, so he prepares collage renderings for builders to give them a complete idea of how a kitchen will look from floor to ceiling. Lots of builders do their own planning, and ignore many necessary features as times change.

"For example, the community-style basement laundry is fading because women do not feel secure. The trend is for each rental unit to have its own laundry. They need more than washing and drying facilities. They need places to store, to hang clothes, to sort and fold."

Yachters Retaliate Integration Rule

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Boat Club has responded to a city ultimatum to integrate by March 28 by asking the city either to buy the club's $3 million facilities on Belle Isle or to sell the club the land on which the facilities sit.

The city had issued the ultimatum Jan. 22 to both the Boat Club and the Detroit Yacht Club, both of which have had annual $1 per year leases.

Boat Club attorney Neil A. Patterson called the situation "uncomfortable for both the club and the city" in a Thursday letter to John M. May, general superintendent of the city's Department of Parks and Recreation.

May said he would not comment on the letter until the Parks and Recreation Commission has studied it.

May Induction To Be Small

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Thursday it will induct 27,600 men into the armed forces in May, the smallest number since January.

A spokesman said 25,600 men would be drafted into the Army and 2,000 into the Marine Corps. The May draft call compares with 26,800 in January, 33,700 in February, 33,100 in March and 33,000 in April.

Government Helps In Paying For New Home

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Question: I read about a new law which will enable low income families to buy their own houses and that the government will pay most of the cost. Is this true? I am married, have two children and make $5,200 a year. Would my family be eligible? Does the law apply only to big cities?

Answer: You are referring to the Housing Act of 1968. It was designed, as you say, to enable low income families to buy their own houses. The law applies to all areas. And, from the little you have mentioned, your family probably would be eligible. But the government will not pay any of the actual cost of the house.

What it will do is to cut down your monthly mortgage payments by subsidizing what you ordinarily would pay in interest.

In some cases, it will act to reduce the interest rate to as low as one per cent, depending on the ability of the home owner to pay. The lending agency does not suffer, since the government will pay it the difference between the actual interest rate and the amount paid by the home owner.

But—and this is the important provision—the purchaser must pay at least 20 per cent of his income towards the monthly payment of the home, including principal, interest, taxes, insurance and the Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance premium. Since the program is administered by the FHA under the supervision of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, single family dwellings must be approved by the FHA prior to construction to be certain that the structures meet certain specifications.

However, it is the private lenders who determine the final eligibility of the buyers, since they are the ones putting up the money. The government says, in effect, that if the purchaser has a low income (it varies depending on the number of persons in the family) and meets certain other qualifications, we will pay part of his interest so that his monthly payments are low enough for him to handle. But this only applies if the lender decides that, under these conditions, it is willing to handle the mortgage. It is a complicated subject, and you would be wise to inquire at a local FHA office or lending institution to get all the answers applying to your particular case.

Dingell Says Abolish ICC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., told a Senate panel today the Interstate Commerce Commission should be abolished.

He said the ICC has ceased to justify its usefulness to the American consumer.

He said it had become a timid referee "calling the balls and strikes in industry squabbles." "I think we ought to abolish the ICC and start all over," Dingell told the Senate subcommittee on intergovernmental relations.

Dingell was critical of many federal regulatory agencies but directed his strongest criticism at the ICC.

Dingell supported a bill which would establish an independent U.S. Office of Utility Consumers' Counsel.

Dingell said some regulatory agencies were too chummy with industry—occasionally to the exclusion even of a congressman or senator who tried to represent the consumer.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Frank Jimmy Snider Jr. wept when he said life in his cell seven feet from the electric chair has been "a living death." He has been in Virginia's death row for 13 years.

From his cell, he said Wednesday, he can "hear the hum of motors, the throwing of the switch and smell the burning flesh."

Snider, in Roanoke Hustings Court for a hearing on a petition for a new trial, contended his frequently scheduled executions and last-minute stays constitute cruel and unusual punishment prohibited by the constitution.

State Attorney Edward S. White, protesting Snider's testimony, said the former Gadsden, Ala., steelworker "is not qualified to testify that the death penalty is cruel unusual punishment as he has not undergone it."

Snider was sentenced to death in 1956 on a charge of raping a 9-year-old child.

In an exchange between White and Snider, the prosecutor said the convict's 13 years on death row have been his own doing, because of legal tactics, and "the commonwealth of Virginia has not kept him there."

Explaining the numerous appeals that have kept him alive, Snider said, "I am not an animal. I want to live."

Tomato Harvest To Be Smaller

LANSING (AP) — There'll be more asparagus, but fewer late summer onions and tomatoes harvested in Michigan this year, if grower plans are carried out.

The State Crop Reporting Service says Michigan's asparagus growers will harvest 13,900 acres for fresh market and processing during 1969. That's 5 per cent more than the previous year.

Onion growers, the service says, plan to harvest 6,400 acres of late summer onion, 400 acres less than last year.

Prospective planted acreage of tomatoes for processing in Michigan totals 5,000 acres, 22 per cent less than in 1968.

Builders Don't Order The Latest In Gadgets

By VIVIAN BROWN

If you can't find the latest kitchen appliances in new houses or apartments, it's because builders don't order them, says kitchen planner William Ketcham.

At a recent kitchen show in New York, Ketcham was surrounded by all sorts of new appliance goodies that were being offered by leading manufacturers—washing machines that at the same time do two loads of laundry, white and colored, dishwashers that do just about everything but clear the table, self-cleaning ovens. But Ketcham's outlook was a bit gloomy.

These new workhorses may be around for quite awhile—five years or more—before the average woman gets to use them because builders order the same old models, he says.

Ketcham has no desire to anger builders. He has worked with them for 14 years in his job with Hotpoint. But their attitude may be slowing up the whole market.

"Builders putting up apartments for sale or rent take a dim view of adding $50 a unit for newer kitchen appliances. They figure they must multiply that 50 by maybe 200 or so units."

Today, anyone putting up a housing unit makes a mistake not installing self-cleaning ovens or easy Teflon-cleaning ovens, he says. The lack of foresight may catch up with them.

"Women want these new conveniences — self-defrosting refrigerators, self-cleaning ovens, dishwashers with pot and pan cycles that include a spotless rinse. Why shouldn't they have them in the new expensive dwellings they buy or rent," he says.

Just the thought of a pre-rinse dishwasher that removes egg and other sticky stuff would send any kitchen mechanic into a spin.

Ketcham had been a commercial artist, so he prepares collage renderings for builders to give them a complete idea of how a kitchen will look from floor to ceiling. Lots of builders do their own planning, and ignore many necessary features as times change.

"For example, the community-style basement laundry is fading because women do not feel secure. The trend is for each rental unit to have its own laundry. They need more than washing and drying facilities. They need places to store, to hang clothes, to sort and fold."

Yachters Retaliate Integration Rule

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Boat Club has responded to a city ultimatum to integrate by March 28 by asking the city either to buy the club's $3 million facilities on Belle Isle or to sell the club the land on which the facilities sit.

The city had issued the ultimatum Jan. 22 to both the Boat Club and the Detroit Yacht Club, both of which have had annual $1 per year leases.

Boat Club attorney Neil A. Patterson called the situation "uncomfortable for both the club and the city" in a Thursday letter to John M. May, general superintendent of the city's Department of Parks and Recreation.

May said he would not comment on the letter until the Parks and Recreation Commission has studied it.

May Induction To Be Small

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Thursday it will induct 27,600 men into the armed forces in May, the smallest number since January.

A spokesman said 25,600 men would be drafted into the Army and 2,000 into the Marine Corps. The May draft call compares with 26,800 in January, 33,700 in February, 33,100 in March and 33,000 in April.

Dingell Says Abolish ICC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., told a Senate panel today the Interstate Commerce Commission should be abolished.

He said the ICC has ceased to justify its usefulness to the American consumer.

He said it had become a timid referee "calling the balls and strikes in industry squabbles."

"I think we ought to abolish the ICC and start all over," Dingell told the Senate subcommittee on intergovernmental relations.

Dingell was critical of many federal regulatory agencies but directed his strongest criticism at the ICC.

Dingell supported a bill which would establish an independent U.S. Office of Utility Consumers' Counsel.

Dingell said some regulatory agencies were too chummy with industry—occasionally to the exclusion even of a congressman or senator who tried to represent the consumer.

Grape Boycott

LANSING (AP) — The Lansing Schools Education Association representative assembly has endorsed a national boycott of California table grapes by a two-thirds vote.

The Lansing group also announced Thursday it intends to take up the question with the Michigan Education Association's representative assembly.

Potawatomi Chief Dies

NILES (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Michael B. Williams, 88, a Potawatomi Indian chief who spent much of the last 20 years pressing claims by the Indians against the federal government. Williams died Tuesday.

He said the Indians were owed millions of dollars for land lost to the white man in the 1820s and 1830s.

Williams left home in Hartford when he was 14. He was named chief after he was 60. He moved to Niles 10 years ago from South Bend, Ind.

Survivors include his widow and son, 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Government Helps In Paying For New Home

By ANDY LANG, AP Newsmaster

Question: I read about a new law which will enable low income families to buy their own houses and that the government will pay most of the cost. Is this true? I am married, have two children and make $5,200 a year. Would my family be eligible? Does the law apply only to big cities?

Answer: You are referring to the Housing Act of 1968. It was designed, as you say, to enable low income families to buy their own houses. The law applies to all areas. And, from the little you have mentioned, your family probably would be eligible. But the government will not pay any of the actual cost of the house.

What it will do is to cut down your monthly mortgage payments by subsidizing what you ordinarily would pay in interest.

In some cases, it will act to reduce the interest rate to as low as one per cent, depending on the ability of the home owner to pay. The lending agency does not suffer, since the government will pay it the difference between the actual interest rate and the amount paid by the home owner.

But — and this is the important provision — the purchaser must pay at least 20 per cent of his income towards the monthly payment of the home, including principal, interest, taxes, insurance and the Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance premium. Since the program is administered by the FHA under the supervision of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, single family dwellings must be approved by the FHA prior to construction to be certain that the structures meet certain specifications.

However, it is the private lenders who determine the final eligibility of the buyers, since they are the ones putting up the money. The government says, in effect, that if the purchaser has a low income (it varies depending on the number of persons in the family) and meets certain other qualifications, we will pay part of his interest so that his monthly payments are low enough for him to handle. But this only applies if the lender decides that, under these conditions, it is willing to handle the mortgage. It is a complicated subject, and you would be wise to inquire at a local FHA office or lending institution to get all the answers applying to your particular case.

1968 Was Good Year For FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI marks what it calls "19 years of hot pursuit" today, the anniversary of its "10 most wanted fugitives" program.

The icing on the anniversary cake, the FBI said Thursday, was the arrest in Norman, Okla., March 5 of Ruth Elsemann-Schier, the only woman ever placed on the list.

Begun in March 1950, the program has resulted in location of 279 fugitives, including Miss Schier, 26.

She was accused, along with Gary Steven Krist, 23, of kidnapping Barbara Jane Mackle, daughter of a wealthy Florida real estate developer, from a Decatur, Ga., motel last Dec. 17.

The FBI said 1968 was a "year of unique accomplishments" that included a record 33 apprehensions of most wanted fugitives.

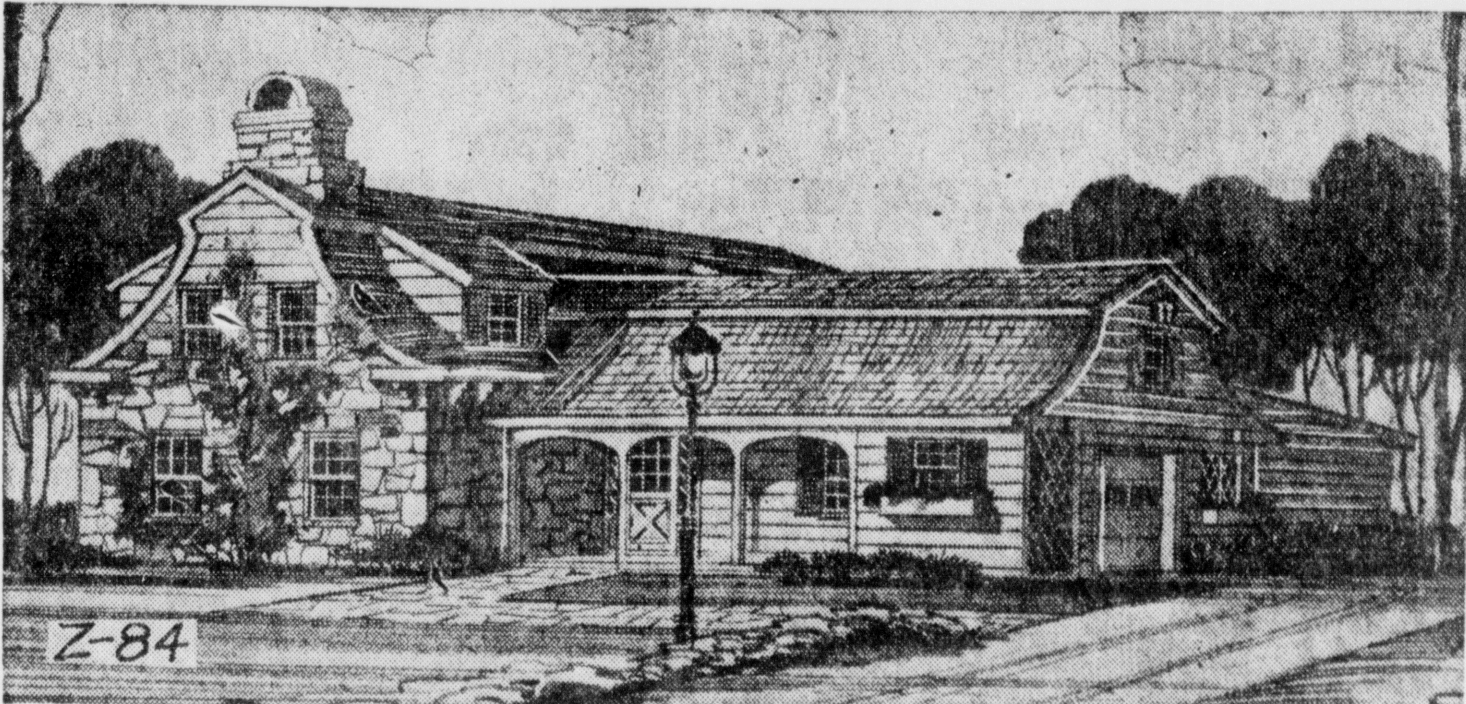

"Especially noteworthy," the bureau said, was the arrest in London of James Earl Ray, convicted in Memphis, Tenn., Monday of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last April 4.

Although another fugitive was found in Canada, the FBI said warm U.S. climates apparently appealed to many of those captured since five were seized in California and three each in Arizona and Florida.

The FBI said private citizens have directly aided in 98 of the 279 apprehensions since the program was started.

And of these, the FBI said, newspaper publicity contributed to 40 of the locations, magazines to 12, television to four and radio to two.

FBI wanted notices, posted in public buildings throughout the country, were credited with aiding directly in identification of 40 additional fugitives.

Dutch Neatness Featured

By ANDY LANG

Anyone who has ever visited The Netherlands knows that the houses there combine quaintness and charm with a kind of neat and orderly look, as though every detail had been planned with considerable thought.

One is likely to get the same impression from the latest House of the Week, a delightful Dutch Colonial of modest proportions that seems larger than it actually is. Much of the reason for its spacious appearance is the characteristic gambrel roof, introduced to America hundreds of years ago by Dutch colonists.

The front entrance, set deep under the porch roof, enters into a foyer with a large guest closet. Straight ahead from the foyer — at the back half of the house — is what the family is likely to consider the main interior feature: a sizable farm-type kitchen. It has a large

Dutch-styled breakfast nook, splayed counter corner with the cooking unit set in, a brick-patterned floor and a broom closet. Wood paneling is on the walls around the breakfast nook. There is an entrance from the kitchen to a porch at the left rear of the house.

Adjacent to the kitchen is the dining room, which also has an entrance to the porch. A huge bay window increases the size of the dining room as well as enhancing the appearance.

The living room is accessible from the front foyer and the dining room. It is 20' long, rather large for this modest-sized home. The front wall is decorated with an internal-chimney fireplace, flanked by windows and two window seats.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern has also placed the master bedroom on the first floor. It has two closets, a corner window seat and a private bathroom with shower. A separate lavatory is located in the rear hall and easily accessible to the kitchen, the one-car garage and the rest of the downstairs area.

Z-84 STATISTICS

Design Z-84, a 1½-story house, has a living room dining room, family kitchen, bedroom, bath, lavatory and foyer on the first floor, with a total of 1280 square feet of living space. Also on the first floor are a one-car garage, a porch off the dining room and kitchen and a covered porch at the entry. There are two bedrooms and a bathroom on the second floor, totaling 489 square feet. A large storage area upstairs could be utilized as a play area if desired. Over-all dimensions of this house are 53' 7" by 34' 2", which include the garage and the two porches.

The garage has its interior entrance in the foyer, contains two storage closets and a neat, latticed compartment for refuse containers.

A central bath services the two bedrooms on the second floor. A deep dormer gives the bathroom an interesting appearance. The front bedroom has a similar front wall to the living room, with chimney windows and window seats, although the chimney in this case does not contain a fireplace.

A storage area over 30' long is entered from the upstairs front bedroom. Since it is 7' high and has a hayloft-type window, it could be used as a children's play area.

Car Production Down Slightly

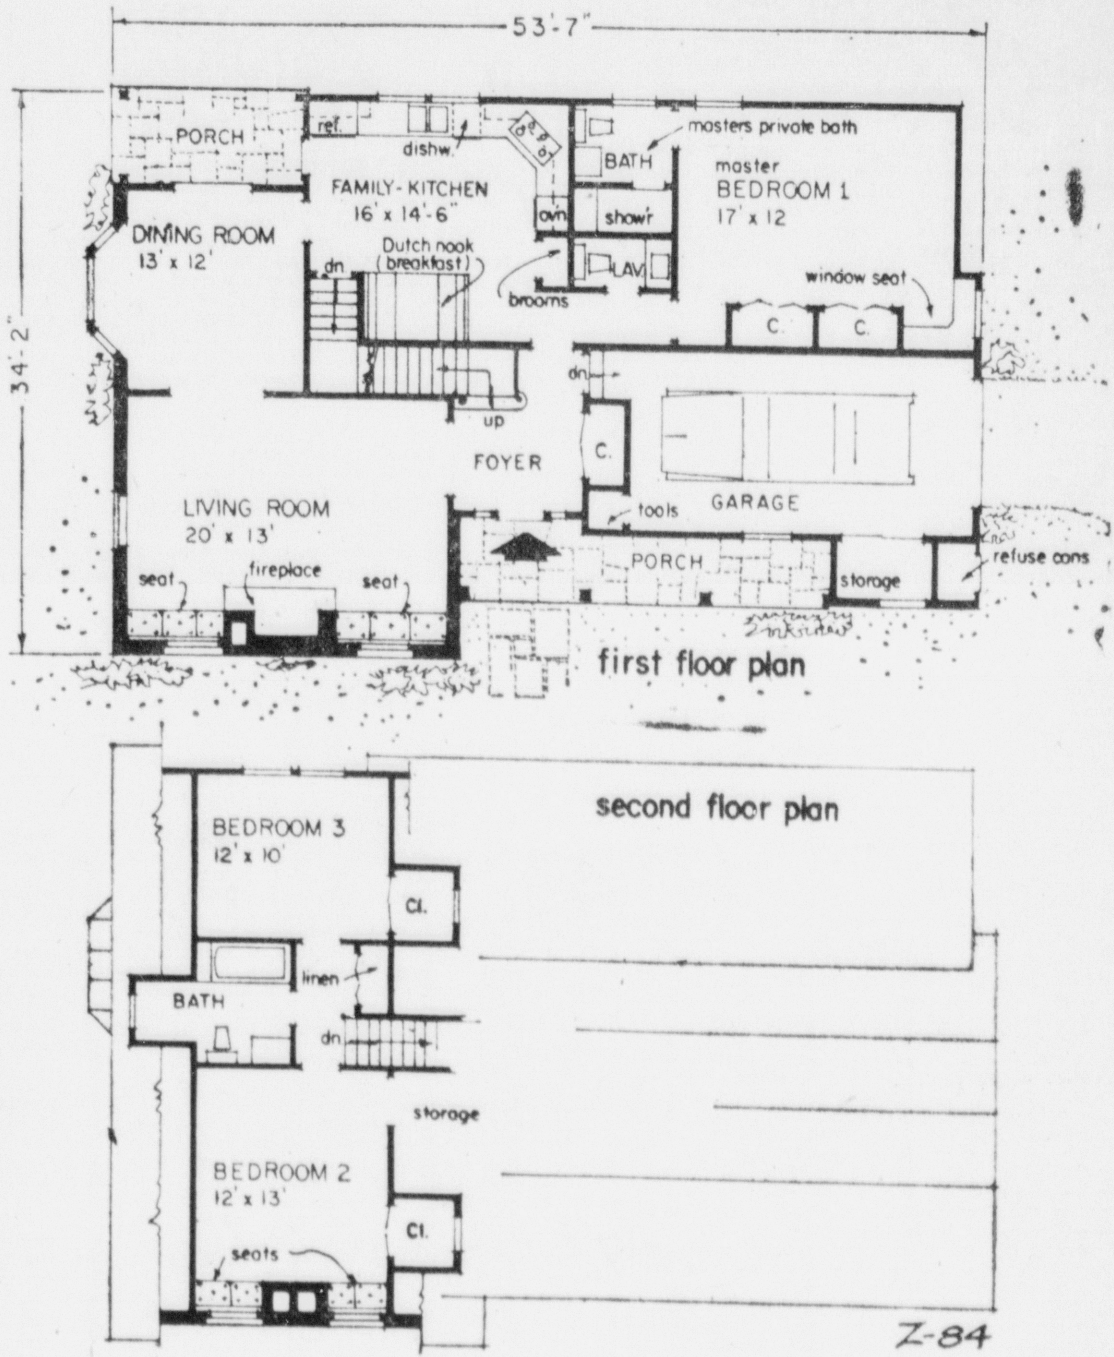

DETROIT (AP) —Auto production scheduled this week by the major auto makers was down slightly from the week before and about 10,000 from the same week in 1968, the trade publication Automotive News reported Thursday.

The dip in production coincided with a 6.9 per cent drop in sales reported Wednesday by the industry for the first 10 days of March. The year-to-year sales lag has resulted in inventory problems at some dealerships, a spot check indicated.

Production scheduled this week was 179,916, down from 181,877 the week before. In the corresponding week in 1968, the industry turned out 191,827 cars. So far this year the industry has built 1,919,808 cars, down from 1,935,111 for the same period in 1968. The total for March reached 361,973.

Truck production totaled 40,182 compared to 39,476 last week and 39,131 for the same week in 1968.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It costs advertisers $1.43 or less, depending on volume per week. It looks kinda lonesome by itself. But look at it this way. What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in the Escanaba Daily Press is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one-inch multiplied by more than 10,500 copies daily.

So you're really buying more than 10,500 inches, which at 168 inches per page would be about 65 pages of printed newsprint.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $1.43. And that price includes delivery to the reader's front doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Daily Press families by post-card. It would amount to more than $630.00 just for the postage. But the Daily Press does it for $1.43 or less per inch.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG INCH when it's advertising space in the Escanaba Daily Press. And the figures show that it's the MOST EFFECTIVE and ECONOMICAL way possible to let people in this entire area know that you have wares or a service that they could use.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It costs advertisers $1.43 or less, depending on volume per week. It looks kindo lonesome by itself. But look at it this way. What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in the Escanaba Daily Press is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one-inch multiplied by more than 10,500 copies daily.

So you're really buying more than 10,500 inches, which at 168 inches per page would be about 65 pages of printed newsprint.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $1.43. And that price includes delivery to the reader's front doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Daily Press families by post-card. It would amount to more than $630.00 just for the postage. But the Daily Press does it for $1.43 or less per inch.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG INCH when it's advertising space in the Escanaba Daily Press. And the figures show that it's the MOST EFFECTIVE and ECONOMIC way possible to let people in this entire area know that you have wares or a service that they could use.

Call 786-2021 and let a Daily Press representative show you how a little BIG INCH can wake up sales for you.

House Demos Meet To Patch Discord

LANSING (AP) — House Democrats met again today with hopes of settling a bitter controversy that erupted over a proposed resolution praising the president of Ferris State College for his actions in ending a protest by black students.

A party caucus adjourned late Thursday after strong rifts developed over what stand the Legislature should take concerning campus protests and uprisings.

Center of the storm is Rep. E.D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who has introduced a resolution which, if approved by both Houses, would commend Dr. Victor Spathelf, president of Ferris State College.

O'Brien praised Spathelf's "positive and decisive action in quelling the student disorder on his campus."

Spathelf has been under fire from some civil rights groups, for his statements and actions in ending a protest by black students.

Negroes Opposed

About 260 students were forcibly removed from the administration building and then arrested by State Police.

Ruppe Announces UPCAP Grant

Congressman Philip Ruppe said today that the Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a grant to UPCAP for general staff training and support of six community action agencies in the U.P. The amount of the grant is $131,787. UPCAP will provide for those services including research information for information of individual program development, serve as coordinating agency and furnish assistance in the program design. Implications of that motion sent Democrats into caucus. Involved were not only widely varied beliefs about college disorders, including the Ferris State incident, but also on funds for college administration.

Some said the issue involved the future of the committee system. Republicans, who declined to be quoted, admired the delicacy of the division. One GOP member said public misunderstanding over Democratic confusion and wrangling would hurt Democrats regardless of how they resolved the matter within the ranks.

Cities To Get Less Protection In Atom Attack

developing "a semiorbital nuclear weapon system."

The Johnson administration had placed its major emphasis on the need for antimissile protection against the potential nuclear threat of Communist China in the 1970s.

Chinese Threat Second

But Nixon made the Chinese rationale secondary, perhaps to stop the criticism from some quarters that the United States was building an enormously costly defense system against a threat which does not yet exist.

Nixon did, however, say his "new concept" of missile defense might reduce U.S. fatalities in the event of a Chinese attack "to a minimal level."

In choosing to stress protection of offensive bases, Nixon said the U.S. nuclear force defends "not only ourselves but our allies as well."

CONFIRM LOSS OF SOVIET SHIP

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — The factory ship of a Soviet trawling fleet has confirmed the loss of a fishing vessel and its entire crew in an Atlantic collision with a tanker. Soviet trawlers of the type involved normally carry 22 to 26 men.

The tanker was the Esso Honduras, of Panamanian registry. The collision with the 125-foot trawler occurred early Thursday off the North Carolina coast, where many Soviet bloc fishing vessels have been operating recently.

A U.S. Coast Guard helicopter sent to the scene found nothing but an oil slick and small pieces of debris. Asked to confirm the loss of the boat, the Soviet factory ship Robert Eyre radioed:

"Collision of tanker Esso Honduras with our fishing ship No. 4553. Result trawler was downed with crew."

The stone fruits — peach, plum and cherry trees — are usually propagated by bud grafting.

Plant Coho In Grand River

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Coho fever may strike the Grand Rapids area—if a planting next Wednesday of 50,000 young salmon proves successful.

The State Department of Natural Resources has announced it will plant the six-to-eight-inch salmon in the Grand River at Grand Rapids. It will be the first such planting of Coho in the Grand Rapids.

A return of immature salmon is expected this fall, resource officials said, but the mature Coho will not return until the fall of 1970.

Students Rough Frisco's Mayor

The tempo of violence has increased in several student protests as gunfire was exchanged on one campus, the mayor of San Francisco was roughed up at another and classes were canceled after new clashes at a third.

At North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, police and students exchanged gunfire near the campus Thursday night. Police said two students were slightly wounded and 10 persons arrested.

The gunfire came after police used tear gas to try and break up a crowd of students they said were disrupting traffic and stoning cars. Off-duty policemen were summoned to quell the disturbance.

The disorder began after a campus rally in support of striking university dining room workers employed by a private corporation.

Earlier in the day the students had decided to boycott the dining halls although their meals there have been paid for in advance. The workers are seeking a 40-cent-an-hour pay increase to a minimum $1.80 per hour plus other demands.

At Georgetown University in Washington, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto was roughed up by demonstrators who rushed the stage. He was forced to move to another building for a planned speech on "Law and the Campus."

Alioto said he was struck on the side of the face and on the shoulder. He did not require treatment and no severe injuries were reported.

College officials said many of the demonstrators were known members of the Students for a Democratic Society and some were from other schools.

Back To Africa' Bill Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman has proposed that the United States offer black Americans the chance to settle permanently in Africa through government financing—if they are willing to give up their citizenship.

Rep. Robert Nix, a Philadelphia Democrat, introduced the bill Thursday "on behalf of constituents," according to an aide who added, "The congressman personally disagrees with the purpose of it."

The proposal is one of many stretching back to the founding of the republic that would allow American Negroes to settle in Africa. None has ever had much success.

U. S. Buy Land

Nix's bill would have the United States buy land for each immigrant, provide free transportation, a house, health benefits and $7,000 a year until permanently settled.

The stated purpose of the bill is to furnish development aid to Africa and to further "the interests and welfare of large numbers of persons of African descent in the United States who desire to repatriate and settle permanently in the independent African countries."

Workers in the room where bills are filed were startled by the measure. One said, "Only a Negro congressman could get away with it."

The Nix bill would authorize the President to negotiate through the State Department with African governments for landsites for the immigrants.

Credit Foreign Aid

"The price of such landsites shall be paid by crediting the cost against foreign aid debts owing to the United States by the country from which such landsite is purchased," the bill said.

A Bureau of Repatriation would be established within the Interior Department to establish training programs for emigrants comparable to that given in the Peace Corps "particularly in Arabic, Hausa and Swahili languages and in the religion of Islam."

The bill also called for compensating the African states by building bridges, dams for hydro-electric power, railroads, telephone and telegraph systems, draining marshlands, dredging harbors and defoliating jungles.

Other provisions of the bill include extending grants-in-aid totaling $7,000 a year for each male head of household, $5,000 for each female or spouse and $2,500 a year for each child. The grants would extend not more than 10 years after settlement.

Ship Heads For College

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The U. S. S. Allegheny, a ship purchased recently by Northwestern Michigan College at Traverse City, begins Saturday a 3,500-mile journey to Michigan.

The ship, which will depart from Philadelphia, will become an integral part of the Maritime Academy Education program at Northwestern.

Arrival date at Traverse City, however, depends upon when the St. Lawrence Seaway is opened to traffic.

Captained by Mike Hemmick of Muskegon, the ship will be manned on the voyage to Michigan by some 40 volunteers from the Grand Traverse County area.

House Demos Meet To Patch Discord

LANSING (AP) — House Democrats met again today with hopes of settling a bitter controversy that erupted over a proposed resolution praising the president of Ferris State College for his actions in ending a protest by black students.

A party caucus adjourned late Thursday after strong rifts developed over what stand the Legislature should take concerning campus protests and uprisings. Center of the storm is Rep. E.D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who has introduced a resolution which, if approved by both Houses, would commend Dr. Victor Spathoff, president of Ferris State College.

O'Brien praised Spathoff's "positive and decisive action in quelling the student disorder on his campus."

Spathoff has been under fire from some civil rights groups, for his statements and actions in ending a protest by black students.

Negroes Opposed
About 250 students were forcibly removed from the administration building and then arrested by State Police.

O'Brien, who also has introduced a number of bills to stiffen sentences for crimes such as assault and armed robbery, earlier sought House consideration of his resolution.

Negro Democrats violently objected to the language and intent of O'Brien's proposal.

Several black legislators called for Spathoff's resignation or dismissal after State Police were sent to quell disturbances at the college in Big Rapids.

Spathoff and other Ferris administrators came in for criticism from various civil rights investigators, following charges that some white students kept guns in their dormitories.

O'Brien earlier allowed his resolution to go back to the Policy Committee after he lost a bid to suspend rules. That would have allowed immediate consideration of the measure.

Dissent And Protest
But Thursday, O'Brien decided there had been enough delay.

Citing "my right to dissent and protest," he blasted what he said were attempts to throttle the proposal by keeping it in committee, and also moved that the House discharge the committee.

Implications of that motion sent Democrats into caucus. Involved were not only widely varied beliefs about college disorders, including the Ferris State incident, but also on funds for college administration.

Some said the issue involved the future of the committee system. Republicans, who declined to be quoted, admired the delicacy of the division. One GOP member said public misunderstanding over Democratic confusion and wrangling would hurt Democrats regardless of how they resolved the matter within the ranks.

developing "a semi-orbital nuclear weapon system."

The Johnson administration had placed its major emphasis on the need for antimissile protection against the potential nuclear threat of Communist China in the 1970s.

Chinese Threat Second
But Nixon made the Chinese rationale secondary, perhaps to stop the criticism from some quarters that the United States was building an enormously costly defensive system against a threat which does not yet exist.

Nixon did, however, say his "new concept" of missile defense might reduce U.S. fatalities in the event of a Chinese attack "to a minimal level."

In choosing to stress protection of offensive bases, Nixon said the U.S. nuclear force defends "not only ourselves but our allies as well."

Confirm Loss Of Soviet Ship

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — The factory ship of a Soviet trawling fleet has confirmed the loss of a fishing vessel and its entire crew in an Atlantic collision with a tanker. Soviet trawlers of the type involved normally carry 22 to 26 men.

The tanker was the Esso Honduras, of Panamanian registry. The collision with the 125-foot trawler occurred early Thursday off the North Carolina coast, where many Soviet fishing vessels have been operating recently.

A U.S. Coast Guard helicopter sent to the scene found nothing but an oil slick and small pieces of debris. Asked to confirm the loss of the boat, the Soviet factory ship Robert Eyhe radioed:

"Collision of tanker Esso Honduras with our fishing ship No. 4553. Result trawler was downed with crew."

The stone fruits — peach, plum and cherry trees — are usually propagated by bud grafting.

Tank Weapons Lacking Ammo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee has charged the Army with "wasteful mismanagement," contending the service developed a new tank weapons system without suitable ammunition.

The three-member House Armed Services investigating subcommittee, headed by Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., opened an investigation Thursday into part of the Army's tank program.

Stratton said the panel would try to "determine whether the Army's achievement to date justifies the huge expenditures involved or whether the mountain has, perhaps, labored and brought forth a mouse."

He scheduled a closed hearing today to hear from the Army, which refused to allow its representatives to testify in public.

Stratton criticized the Army's secrecy. Much of the classified information, he said, "is such that one might reasonably conclude that this censorship is indeed an attempt to hide bumbling ineptness rather than to protect vital security data."

The first day's testimony centered on two new systems: the Sheridan and a modification of the M60, now the mainstay of the Army's heavy field armor.

Both are designed to fire, from the same tube, 152mm ammunition or the heat-seeking Shilleagh missile, and in both engineers encountered difficulties in developing the sophisticated new turret mechanism.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats said a decision to classify the Sheridan as ready for use was "inappropriate, as it resulted in the mass production and storage of weapons which could not be used as intended."

He did not reveal how many were produced altogether, but said the Army ordered 420 Sheridans for fiscal 1968, a reduction from the planned 600.

Total cost of developing and procuring the Sheridan system, including missiles and ammunition, is estimated at more than $1.3 billion through 1972.

The other system that came under scrutiny, the M60, carries an estimated price tag of $250 million.

RICHARD C. JOHNSON, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton P. Johnson, 1029 N. 18th St., has been promoted to aviation machinists mate 3rd class ADR. Johnson has been stationed at North Island Naval Base, San Diego, Calif., as a turbojet engine mechanic. He recently was transferred to special duty working on early warning planes as a reciprocating engine mechanic. Johnson is married to the former Edna Gilligan and they reside in San Diego.

Students Rough Frisco's Mayor

The tempo of violence has increased in several student protests as gunfire was exchanged on one campus, the mayor of San Francisco was roughed up at another and classes were canceled after new clashes at a third.

At North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, police and students exchanged gunfire near the campus Thursday night. Police said two students were slightly wounded and 10 persons arrested.

The gunfire came after police used tear gas to try and break up a crowd of students they said were disrupting traffic and stoning cars. Off-duty policemen were summoned to quell the disturbance.

The disorder began after a campus rally in support of striking university dining room workers employed by a private corporation.

Earlier in the day the students had decided to boycott the dining halls although their meals there have been paid for in advance. The workers are seeking a 40-cent-an-hour pay increase to a minimum $1.80 per hour plus other demands.

At Georgetown University in Washington, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto was roughed up by demonstrators who rushed the stage. He was forced to move to another building for a planned speech on "Law and the Campus."

Alioto said he was struck on the side of the face and on the shoulder. He did not require treatment and no severe injuries were reported.

College officials said many of the demonstrators were known members of the Students for a Democratic Society and some were from other schools.

Plant Coho In Grand River

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Coho fever may strike the Grand Rapids area—if a planting next Wednesday of 50,000 young salmon proves successful.

The State Department of Natural Resources has announced it will plant the six-to-eight-inch salmon in the Grand River at Grand Rapids. It will be the first such planting of Coho in the Grand Rapids.

A return of immature salmon is expected this fall, resource officials said, but the mature Coho will not return until the fall of 1970.

'Back To Africa' Bill Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman has proposed that the United States offer black Americans the chance to settle permanently in Africa through government financing — if they are willing to give up their citizenship.

Rep. Robert Nix, a Philadelphia Democrat, introduced the bill Thursday "on behalf of constituents," according to an aide who added, "The congressman personally disagrees with the purpose of it."

The proposal is one of many stretching back to the founding of the republic that would allow American Negroes to settle in Africa. None has ever had much success.

U. S. Buy Land
Nix's bill would have the United States buy land for each immigrant, provide free transportation, a house, health benefits and $7,000 a year until permanently settled.

The stated purpose of the bill

Practice Role As Astronauts Back From Moon

ABOARD THE USS GUADALCANAL (AP) — Three men pretending to be astronauts just back from a moon landing went into their fourth day of confinement today inside a shipboard quarantine enclosure.

Along with two attendants—a doctor and an engineer—the three were sealed into the trailer-like mobile quarantine facility (MQF) on Monday.

They will leave their movable chamber briefly during the weekend when it is unloaded from this aircraft carrier at Norfolk Va.

Then, back inside, they will be flown to the lunar receiving laboratory at the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston.

There they face another two weeks in isolation.

The quarantine is practice for the reception astronauts returning from the moon will actually receive.

Scientists are confident the returning moon visitors will bring back nothing to contaminate earth. But just in case, the astronauts will go into strict quarantine until scientists have thoroughly examined them and the lunar samples they bring back.

The three men are Air Force Lt. Paul Kruppenbacher, 24, Yonkers, N.Y.; Texas Ward, 34, Eugene, Ore., and Arthur Lizza, 46, East Hartford, Conn.

Ship Heads For College

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The U. S. S. Allegheny, a ship purchased recently by Northwestern Michigan College at Traverse City, begins Saturday a 3,500-mile journey to Michigan.

The ship, which will depart from Philadelphia, will become an integral part of the Maritime Academy Education program at Northwestern.

Arrival date at Traverse City, however, depends upon when the St. Lawrence Seaway is opened to traffic.

Captained by Mike Hemmick of Muskegon, the ship will be manned on the voyage to Michigan by some 40 volunteers from the Grand Traverse County area.

Hot water costs less with Gas.

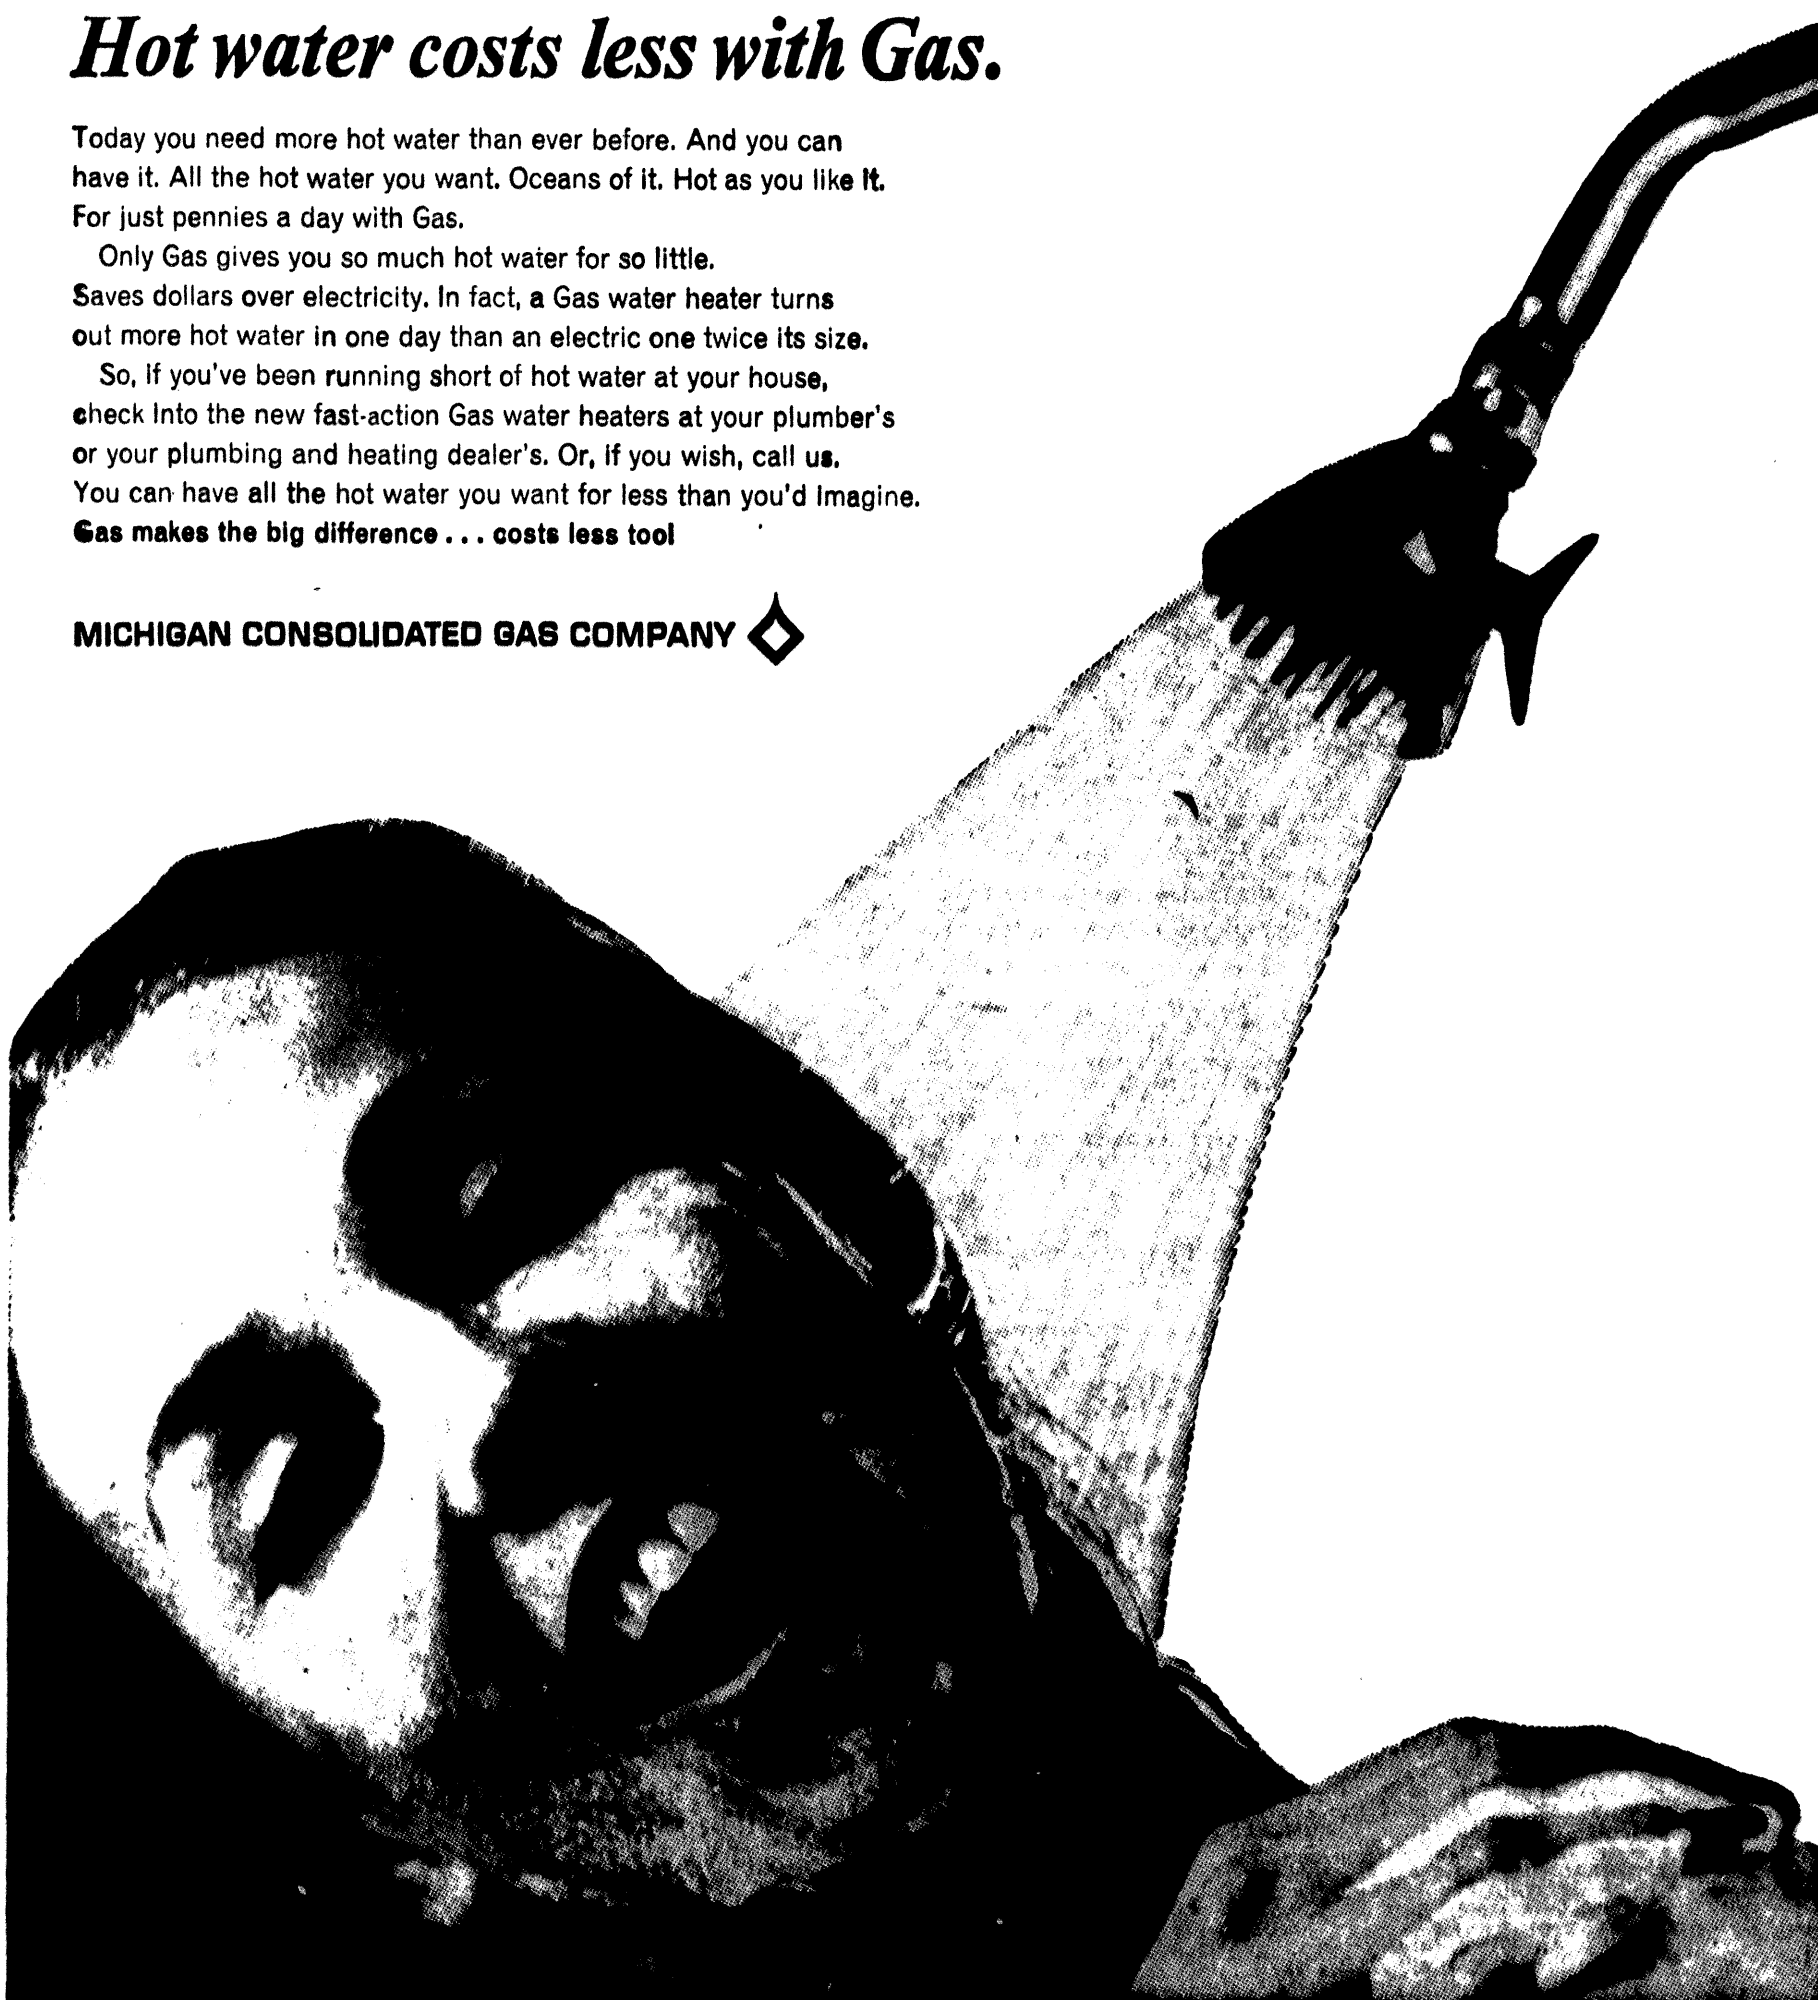

Today you need more hot water than ever before. And you can have it. All the hot water you want. Oceans of it. Hot as you like it. For just pennies a day with Gas.

Only Gas gives you so much hot water for so little. Saves dollars over electricity. In fact, a Gas water heater turns out more hot water in one day than an electric one twice its size.

So, if you've been running short of hot water at your house, check into the new fast-action Gas water heaters at your plumber's or your plumbing and heating dealer's. Or, if you wish, call us.

You can have all the hot water you want for less than you'd imagine. Gas makes the big difference . . . costs less too!

Strikes-n-Spares

With Mike Utt

Women took the spotlight again this week in the various bowling leagues in Escanaba with 500 or over series. Pat Johnston led the way with 216 and 214 games in a 611 series and Lois Cox was second with a 227 game in a 550 series. Also going over the magic mark were Connie Verhamme 214-549, Armine Sundquist 203-539, Agnes Baribeau 532, Betty Nelson 511, Jackie King 506, Skip Shomin 208-529 and Shirley Peltier 503.

The low average bowlers really outdid themselves in the Delta League at the Holiday Bowl Wednesday when three bowlers topped the 200 mark. Peter Christiansen, carrying a 150 average, rolled a 244 game in a 572 series while Ron Goetz, with a 152 average, had a 209 game and Kirke Harrington turned in a 205 game while carrying a 148 average. Other high scores in the league Wednesday were Frank Adams' 214 game and Harold Johnson's 211.

Two other low average bowlers hit the alleys like pros in league competition this week. Debbie Colombo, carrying a 113 average in Wednesday Women's League at the Holiday Bowl, had a 226 game and Mike McGreary, sporting a 111 average in the Tuesday Bay de Noc League at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes, had a 218.

Some fine split pickups were also recorded this past week. Jane Pryal slid the eight pin over to pick off the ten pin on Friday night at the Bowl-A-Rama and Steve Fraddo will receive a patch for knocking off the 4-6-7-10 split on Wednesday night also at the Bowl-A-Rama.

Jiggs Shomin turned in a fine 600 series the same night his wife Skip had her 529. Jiggs rolled games of 222 and 215 in his 608 series in the Friday Night Mixed Couples League at the Bowl-A-Rama. The Snow Nies, a two man and two women team, had a 759 game in a 2130 series on the same night.

Charlotte Tousignant, bowling for the Carlings Team in the Tuesday Early Bird League has already bowled a "Triple" this season and missed another one by 2 pins last Tuesday night. She had 125, 127, 127.

Split Pickers: Kathleen Richards, Gert Moran, Grace Hughes, Barbara Joran, Marian Kield, Pat Johnston, Beulah Groos, George Peterson, Ed Kulvinen, Len Boudreau, Bill Rodman and Bob Bink.

Four Golfers Tied For Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — For U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, happiness is money. For rookie Larry Hinson, who shares a one-stroke lead with Trevino, Tommy Aaron and Bruce Crampton going into today's second round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open, happiness is making the cut.

For perennial runner-up Aaron, happiness has to be winning his first tournament.

For Australia's Crampton, it's his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival.

The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s Thursday over the wind-swept par 71 Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

Houghton, Saints Win In Regionals

MARQUETTE — Houghton and St. Ignace picked up opening round victories in the first round of play in the Class C regional basketball tournament being held at the Northern Michigan University fieldhouse.

Games today will find Bishop Baraga battling Baraga in the opening game in Class D play at 2 p. m. with the contest between Powers - Spalding and Wakefield to follow at 3:30. In Class B action tonight, Negaunee will meet Menominee at 7 and Gladstone will go against Ironwood in the nightcap at 8:30.

Houghton started fast in last night's game as Gary Lange hit five field goals in the first three minutes to put his team ahead, 13-6. Towards the end of the first quarter, the Houghton team got into foul trouble as a result of their full court press and Crystal Falls made most of their free throws and closed the gap and remained in the game.

Brian Salo got Houghton going again in the second period with three field goals in the first three and one half minutes but Houghton then went cold from the field and didn't score again until Salo hit a free throw two minutes left in the quarter.

Crystal Falls kept hitting their free throws and closed the gap late in the second quarter and only trailed by one, 30-29 and half time. They went ahead in the third quarter on a field goal and a free throw by Dale Hawks but Don Saarela tied it for Houghton shortly after with a free throw.

The score was tied ten times in the next 12 minutes before Lange put Houghton ahead 57-55 with 32 seconds left to play in the game. Crystal Falls couldn't penetrate Houghton's defense for the easy layup in the remaining seconds and were going to settle for an outside attempt before Saarela stole the ball and scored for Houghton with only four seconds remaining on the clock. Gary Lange led Houghton with 30 points and Jim Gill and Hawks had 17 and 17 respectively for Crystal Falls.

The St. Ignace-Ontonagon affair was rather sluggish and St. Ignace biggest lead of the night was six points while Ontonagon could never lead by more than two.

With three minutes left in the third period, St. Ignace broke the game wide open by outscoring Ontonagon 13-2 in the remaining minutes of the third period and early in the fourth. Leo Donavon paced St. Ignace with 31 points and also pulled down 12 rebounds in the game.

Athletes and cheerleaders of all sports at Escanaba Area High School will be honored at the annual Eskymo Fan Club All Sports Banquet Saturday, March 29, at 6:30 p. m. in the High School Commons.

Coaches will be on hand to present awards to outstanding athletes of football, basketball, wrestling, golf, tennis and cross country teams from grades 9 through 12.

Brodie Westen, assistant football coach at the University of Illinois, will be the featured speaker at the banquet. Westen, a native of Marquette, joined the Illinois staff in 1968 after a successful coaching career at Rockford West High School. He is also scheduled to speak at the Escanaba Football Coaches Clinic Friday night, March 28.

Westen was very instrumental in influencing former Escanaba lineman Jerry Cole to enroll at the University last fall. Cole will join Steve Oman, another former Eskymo great, on the Illinois varsity squad this fall. Oman is a regular offensive guard with the Big Ten team.

All parents of athletes as well as any interested sports fans in the community are invited to attend the banquet. Tickets may be purchased at Gust Asp's and Ernie's Party Store as well as at the door.

Tigers Upend Mets In Live Ball Test

By The Associated Press

The baseball had more bounce to the ounce but the outcome was pretty much old hat to the New York Mets.

In a test to help give major league baseball some more offense, a ball with 10 per cent more resiliency was used in Thursday's exhibition game between the Mets and Detroit.

It was an old-fashioned 1968 pitchers' battle for three innings. Then, the Tigers' Dick McAuliffe, Norm Cash and Gabe Paul bounced three balls into orbit in a six-run fourth inning and the world champions made off with a 7-4 win.

"That ball sure got livelier in the fourth inning," grinned Don Cardwell, victim of the assault. "The dugouts agree that the ball is livelier," reported Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who visited both benches during the game. "The ball has a higher seam and appears to some to be slightly smaller, although it measures to specifications."

"It will have to be tested more extensively than two games," he continued, noting that it will be used again in today's exhibition between San Francisco and California at Phoenix, Ariz. "We might try it this summer in the rookie leagues," he added.

Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner and perennial go-

pher ball king, hurled four scoreless innings with the bouncy ball.

"I wish they'd leave the game alone," he said. "They're making it too complicated." But he said it was "highly appropriate" that he was the first pitcher to throw it. "Now," he laughed, "they'll find out how far it can travel."

"The seams are higher," he went on. "It's a better breaking ball. In the long run it will help the pitchers. It could put baseball back where it was last year."

The holdout ranks lost a member when first baseman Willie McCovey signed a two-year contract with the Giants for an estimated $85,000. Manager Clyde King said he would put his big slugger into the line-up at once. "You know what it looks like," King chortled. "It looks like I'm sitting before a great big piece of strawberry shortcake and can't wait to tear into it."

The most prominent remaining holdouts are San Francisco's Juan Marchal, Minnesota's Kim Kaat and Al Downing of the New York Yankees.

Willie Mays put the whipped cream on King's strawberry shortcake Thursday with a three-run double that powered the Giants to a 4-1 win over San Diego.

The expansion Seattle Pilots split their squad and came away with two victories. One group edged Oakland 3-2 on Lou Piniella's two-run double and Mike Hegan's steal of home. The other contingent nipped California 7-6 with a three-run eighth-inning rally.

Larry Jaster hurled six innings of one-hit ball—Doug Rader's single in the second—and Bob Bailey and John Bateman homered in Montreal's 8-2 conquest of Houston.

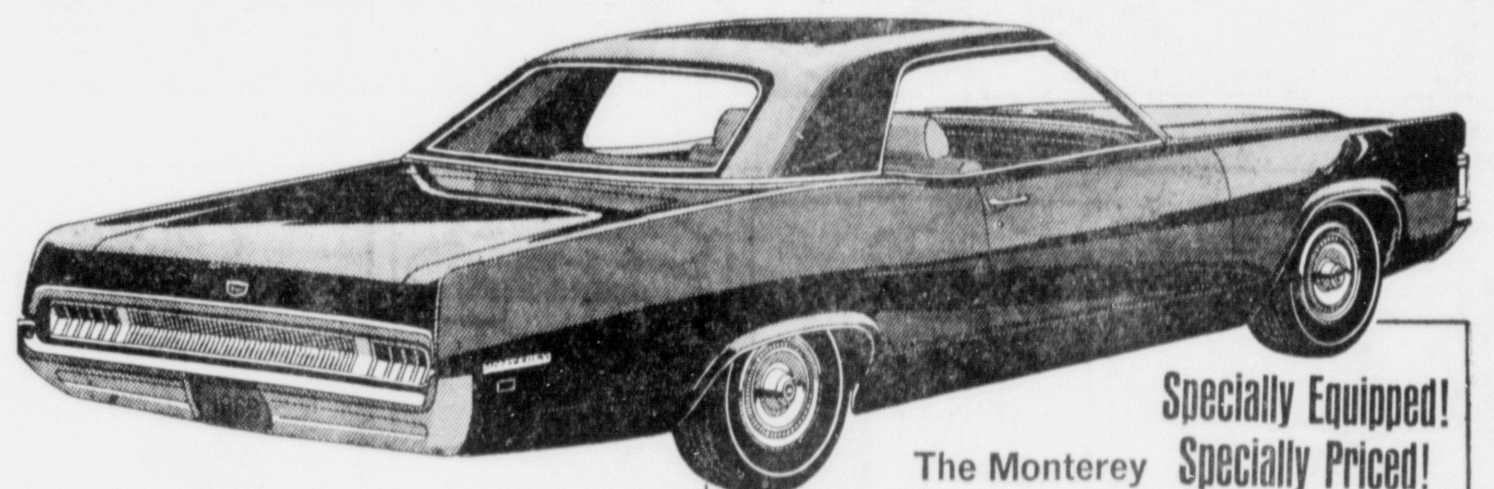

Newly acquired Vada Pinson homered and tripled as St. Louis toppled Philadelphia 5-3. Rookie outfielder Carlos May batted the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 triumph over Atlanta with three runs batted in.

Washington made it seven straight losses for winless Manager Ted Williams, bowing 3-2 to Baltimore on Don Buford's homer. Bill Sudakis of Los Angeles and Chuck Manuel of Minnesota singled home runs in the 10th innings of their respective games as the Dodgers beat Boston 6-5 and the Twins downed Cincinnati 3-2.

Tony Horton knocked in three runs as Cleveland walloped the Chicago Cubs 7-0 and Luis Alcaraz drove in three runs with as many singles in Kansas City's 7-1 triumph over the Yankees.

Strikes-n-Spares With Mike Utt

Women took the spotlight again this week in the various bowling leagues in Escanaba with 500 or over series. Pat Johnston led the way with 216 and 214 games in a 611 series and Lois Cox was second with a 227 game in a 550 series. Also going over the magic mark were Connie Verhamme 214-549, Armine Sundquist 203-539, Agnes Baribeau 532, Betty Nelson 511, Jackie King 506, Skip Shomin 208-529 and Shirley Peltier 505.

The low average bowlers really outdid themselves in the Delta League at the Holiday Bowl Wednesday when three bowlers topped the 200 mark. Peter Christiansen, carrying a 150 average, rolled a 244 game in a 572 series while Ron Goetz, with a 152 average, had a 209 game and Kirke Harrington turned in a 205 game while carrying a 148 average. Other high scores in the league Wednesday were Frank Adams' 214 game and Harold Johnson's 211.

Two other low average bowlers hit the alleys like pros in league competition this week. Debbie Colombo, carrying a 113 average in Wednesday Women's League at the Holiday Bowl, had a 226 game and Mike McGreary, sporting a 111 average in the Tuesday Bay de Noc League at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes, had a 218.

X X X

Some fine split pickups were also recorded this past week. Jane Pryal slid the eight pin over to pick off the ten pin on Friday night at the Bowl-A-Rama and Steve Fraddo will receive a patch for knocking off the 4-6-7-10 split on Wednesday night also at the Bowl-A-Rama.

Jiggs Shomin turned in a fine 600 series the same night his wife Skip had her 529. Jiggs rolled games of 222 and 215 in his 608 series in the Friday Night Mixed Couples League at the Bowl-A-Rama. The Snow Nies, a two man and two women team, had a 759 game in a 2130 series on the same night.

X X X

Charlotte Tousignant, bowling for the Carlings Team in the Tuesday Early Bird League has already bowled a "Triple" this season and missed another one by 2 pins last Tuesday night. She had 125, 127, 127.

Split Pickers: Kathleen Richards, Gert Moran, Grace Hughes Barbara Joran, Marian Kield, Pat Johnston, Beulah Groos, George Peterson, Ed Kuivinen, Len Boudreau, Bill Rodman and Bob Bink.

Four Golfers Tied For Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — For U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, happiness is money. For rookie Larry Hinson, who shares a one-stroke lead with Trevino, Tommy Aaron and Bruce Crampton going into today's second round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open, happiness is making the cut.

For perennial runner-up Aaron, happiness has to be winning his first tournament.

For Australia's Crampton, it's his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival. The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s Thursday over the wind-swept par 71 Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

Houghton, Saints Win In Regionals

MARQUETTE — Houghton and St. Ignace picked up opening round victories in the first round of play in the Class C regional basketball tournament being held at the Northern Michigan University fieldhouse. Games today will find Bishop Baraga battling Baraga in the opening game in Class D play at 2 p. m. with the contest between Powers - Spalding and Wakefield to follow at 3:30. In Class B action tonight, Negau-nee will meet Menominee at 7 and Gladstone will go against Ironwood in the nightcap at 8:30.

Houghton started fast in last night's game as Gary Lange hit five field goals in the first three minutes to put his team ahead, 13-6. Towards the end of the first quarter, the Houghton team got into foul trouble as a result of their full court press and Crystal Falls made most of their free throws and closed the gap and remained in the game.

Brian Salo got Houghton going again in the second period with three field goals in the first three and one half minutes but Houghton then went cold from the field and didn't score again until Salo hit a free throw two minutes left in the quarter.

Crystal Falls kept hitting their free throws and closed the gap late in the second quarter and only trailed by one, 30-29 and half time. They went ahead in the third quarter on a field goal and a free throw by Dale Hawks but Don Saarela tied it for Houghton shortly after with a free throw.

The score was tied ten times in the next 12 minutes before Lange put Houghton ahead 57-55 with 32 seconds left to play in the game. Crystal Falls couldn't penetrate Houghton's defense for the easy layup in the remaining seconds and were going to settle for an outside attempt before Saarela stole the ball and scored for Houghton with only four seconds remaining on the clock. Gary Lange led Houghton with 30 points and Jim Gill and Hawks had 17 and 17 respectively for Crystal Falls.

The St. Ignace-Ontonagon affair was rather sluggish and St. Ignace biggest lead of the night was six points while Ontonagon could never lead by more than two.

With three minutes left in the third period, St. Ignace broke the game wide open by outscoring Ontonagon 13-2 in the remaining minutes of the third period and early in the fourth. Leo Donavon paced St. Ignace with 31 points and also pulled down 12 rebounds in the game.

Tigers Upend Mets In Live Ball Test

By The Associated Press
The baseball had more bounce to the ounce but the outcome was pretty much old hat to the New York Mets.

In a test to help give major league baseball some more offense, a ball with 10 per cent more resiliency was used in Thursday's exhibition game between the Mets and Detroit.

It was an old-fashioned 1968 pitchers' battle for three innings. Then, the Tigers' Dick McAuliffe, Norm Cash and Gates Brown bounced three balls into orbit in a six-run fourth inning and the world champions made off with a 7-4 win.

"That ball sure got livelier in the fourth inning," grinned Don Cardwell, victim of the assault. "The dugouts agree that the ball is livelier," reported Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who visited both benches during the game. "The ball has a higher seam and appears to come to be slightly smaller, although it measures to specifications."

"It will have to be tested more extensively than two games," he continued, noting that it will be used again in today's exhibition between San Francisco and California at Phoenix, Ariz. "We might try it this summer in the rookie leagues," he added.

Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner and perennial go-

pher ball king, hurled four scoreless innings with the bouncy ball.

"I wish they'd leave the game alone," he said. "They're making it too complicated." But he said it was "highly appropriate" that he was the first pitcher to throw it. "Now," he laughed, "they'll find out how far it can travel."

"The seams are higher," he went on. "It's a better breaking ball. In the long run it will help the pitchers. It could put baseball back where it was last year."

The holdout ranks lost a member when first baseman Willie McCovey signed a two-year contract with the Giants for an estimated $85,000. Manager Clyde King said he would put his big slugger into the line-up at once.

"You know what it looks like," King chortled. "It looks like I'm sitting before a great big piece of strawberry shortcake and can't wait to tear into it."

The most prominent remaining holdouts are San Francisco's Juan Marichal, Minnesota's Kim Kaat and Al Downing of the New York Yankees.

Willie Mays put the whipped cream on King's strawberry shortcake Thursday with a three-run double that powered the Giants to a 4-1 win over San Diego.

The expansion Seattle Pilots split their squad and came away with two victories. One group edged Oakland 3-2 on Lou Piniella's two-run double and Mike Hegan's steal of home. The other contingent nipped California 7-6 with a three-run eighth-inning rally.

Larry Jaster hurled six innings of one-hit ball—Doug Rader's single in the second—and Bob Bailey and John Bateman homered in Montreal's 8-2 conquest of Houston.

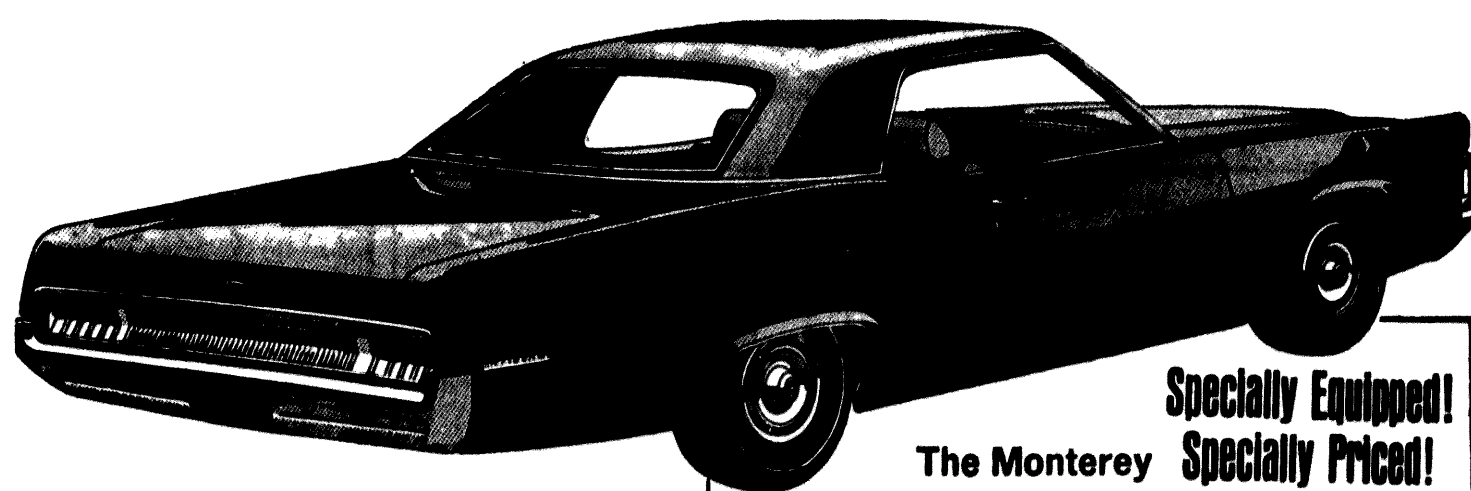

Newly acquired Vada Pinson homered and tripled as St. Louis topped Philadelphia 5-3. Rookie outfielder Carlos May batted the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 triumph over Atlanta with three runs batted in.

Washington made it seven straight losses for winless Manager Ted Williams, bowing 3-2 to Baltimore on Don Buford's homer. Bill Sudakis of Los Angeles and Chuck Manuel of Minnesota singled home runs in the 10th innings of their respective games as the Dodgers beat Boston 6-5 and the Twins downed Cincinnati 3-2.

Tony Horton knocked in three runs as Cleveland walloped the Chicago Cubs 7-0 and Luis Alcaraz drove in three runs with as many singles in Kansas City's 7-1 triumph over the Yankees.

Bruins Win, Alcindor Injured

By The Associated Press
UCLA beat New Mexico State, but now Johnny Wooden, coach of the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, has a new worry.

Trio Of Quints Post Victories In City Tourney

Gafner's Automotive, Tom's Signs and the Stonehouse notched victories last night in the City League basketball tournament being held in the Escanaba Junior High School gym.

Paul Miller's 20 points led Gafner's to a 52-45 decision over the Jets. Scott Apelgren had 15 points for the losers. In the second game, Tom's Signs tripped Hebert's, 88-65, with Mike Turan tossing in 23 points and Pat Groleau 21 for Tom's and Jim Bruce and Al Carlat to score 20 and 18 points respectively for Hebert's.

In the closest game of the night, the Stonehouse nipped the Independents, 67-66, behind the 25 points scored by Tom Butch. Dennis Weber had 18 points for the Independents. Monday night, Gafner's will play Tom's Foodland at 6:45 and Tom's Signs will meet the Stonehouse at 8.

Toronto Snares Tie With Wings

By The Associated Press
The National Hockey League has more ties than daddy on Christmas morning.

Toronto trapped Oakland 3-1 Thursday night to tie Detroit for fourth place in the East Division while Philadelphia nipped Boston 2-1 and deadlocked Los Angeles for third place in the West. Detroit was idle Thursday.

In another contest, Montreal rallied to tie the Minnesota 4-4 and open a three-point lead over Boston in the race for the East pennant.

Toronto scored in each period — Pat Quinn, Norm Ullman and George Armstrong were the marksmen — against Oakland before Joe Szura spoiled goal Bruce Gamble's shutout bid Bruins over the Aggies 53-38 in the West Regional of the NCAA championship tourney at Los Angeles Thursday night.

A UCLA spokesman said the injury was not serious, but even a slightly below par Alcindor could jeopardize the Bruins' chances when they play the third-ranked Santa Clara Broncos in the West Regional final Saturday afternoon.

"It will be at least late Friday afternoon before we have any definite word as to his exact shape," Wooden said.

Santa Clara blew an 18-point lead against Weber State, but pulled out a 63-59 overtime victory over the Big Sky Conference champs. Weber almost pulled the upset of the night, but Dave Sackolwitz missed two free throws with six seconds left in regulation time and the score tied 55-55.

"Our sophomores were just too excited," said Phil Johnson, Weber State coach.

Duquesne similarly almost pulled off a stunner against North Carolina before losing 79-78 to the fourth-ranked Tar Heels in the East Regional at College Park, Md.

North Carolina, which at one time led by 14 points at 67-53, won on two field goals by soph Lee Demon on passes from Charlie Scott in the final 28 seconds.

"Time just ran out on us," said a dejected Red Manning, the Duquesne coach.

Marquette and Colorado State U. did register upsets. Marquette whipped seventh-ranked Kentucky 81-74 in the Midwest Regional at Madison, Wis., and Colorado State knocked off favored Colorado 64-56 in the Midwest Regional at Manhattan, Kan., despite 32 points by Colorado's soph, Cliff Meely.

"The boys were sky high for this one," said a happy Al McGuire, the Marquette coach, after Kentucky's defeat.

Mike Maloy's 35 points paced fifth-ranked Davidson over the eighth-ranked St. John's Redmen 79-69. Rick Mount's 32 points led sixth-ranked Purdue in a 91-71 rout of Miami of Ohio and Willie McCarter's 24 points sparked Drake over Texas A&M 81-63 in the other NCAA regional games.

There was activity in other postseason tourneys. Temple routed Florida 82-66 and St. Peter's of New Jersey upset Tulsa 75-71 in the opening of the NIT at New York.

Kentucky Wesleyan, the defending champion, edged American International 83-82 in overtime and Southwest Missouri upset top-seeded Ashland of Ohio 58-48 in the semifinals of the NCAA College Division tourney at Evansville, Ind.

In the quarter-finals of the other small college tourney, the NAIA at Kansas City, Eastern New Mexico beat High Point 77-73, Central Washington downed Henderson 68-64, Elizabeth City edged Washburn 90-88 and Maryland State conquered Monmouth, N.J., 89-94.

Purdue, Warriors Stay In Running

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Purdue and Marquette remained in the running, but Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp was denied a bid for a fifth NCAA basketball title Thursday night.

Marquette knocked off Kentucky 81-74 and Purdue crushed Miami of Ohio 91-71 in the opening round of the Mid-east Regional at the University of Wisconsin.

The Warriors of Marquette and Purdue's Boilermakers will clash for the title and a trip to the national finals Saturday afternoon at 3:05 p.m.

Marquette used board control and balanced scoring to knock seventh-ranked Kentucky in the opener. George Thompson scored 22 points to lead the Warriors.

Marquette moved out to a 36-33 halftime advantage. But Kentucky tied the contest 53-51.

Marquette then padded its lead with free throws as the desperate Wildcats fouled repeatedly while scrambling for the ball.

Rick Mount, Purdue's All-American, funneled in 32 points as the Big Ten champions had an easy time rolling over out-manned Miami.

Sixth-ranked Purdue suffered a costly blow, however, when it was discovered after the game that center Chuck Bavis had suffered either a broken collarbone or shoulder separation. He Cornell has come out to the Rockies as the top college team in the East with 26 victories, the last 24 in a row, against just one loss.

Michigan Tech has won 21 and tied two of its 30 games and edged Denver for the title in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association by a half-game margin.

Ralph "Cooney" Weiland, who has coached Harvard for close to 20 years, warned both of tonight's contenders.

"Denver has a lot of class," Weiland said after the game. "They're going to take a lot of beating."

The Cantabs from the Ivy League gave the slow-starting 1968 champions a stirring battle in the first period. Harvard scored first on Ron Mark's goal only 28 seconds after the faceoff.

The teams were tied 2-2 at the first intermission and Coach

Pistons Nearing Finish Of Disastrous Campaign

By The Associated Press
The Detroit Pistons, defeated by San Diego 120-105 Thursday night, find themselves 25 games behind Baltimore, which is leading the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

And Detroit takes on San Francisco in a West Coast battle as the Pistons start their last five games of a rather disastrous season.

Don Kojis joined the long list of Pistons killers Thursday when he scored 31 points to lead the San Diego Rockets to victory.

The Pistons are in sixth place in the division, 4 1/2 games ahead of last place Milwaukee. The victory enabled San Diego to sneak past the Chicago Bulls into fourth place in the West by 11 percentage points. In Chicago, Philadelphia beat the Bulls 113-108 and boosted its second-place margin in the East to 1 1/2 games over idle New York.

Cincinnati, edged on by its fans, got by Boston 120-110 and Seattle swamped Milwaukee 141-118 in a game between also-rans.

In the ABA, Miami nudged Dallas 124-121 in overtime, Indiana mauled New York 125-87, Houston whipped Kentucky 128-110 and Los Angeles blasted Denver 142-119.

In the game at San Diego, Kojis scored 19 points in the first half as the Rockets built a 57-51 lead.

John Block of the Rockets finished with 24 points. Happy Hairston led the Pistons, who lost their third game in a row, with 22.

Philadelphia blew most of a 13-point lead but pulled away from Chicago again in the final

HE REFOOZED 100 DOLLARS FO' TH' PATRIOTS CROP!! HE'S SWIN' AWAY!!

IMPOSSIBLE! MUST BE A SHREWD YANKEE TRICK--

MAY I COME IN, SWEETHEART?

YES, DADDY, PLEASE DO!

WHAT'S WRONG WITH MY BABY?

I'M SO EMBARRASSED... THE WAY MOTHER TREATED SCOTTY... AND I'M WORRIED ABOUT HIM!

KNOW WHAT YOU'RE LOADED WITH, MY BOY? SOTTISHNESS, THAT'S WHAT!

SOTTISHNESS???

SOTTISHNESS-- S-S-SOTTISHNESS!

OH, YEAH!?

SOME BUGGY YOU'VE GOT MR. GRUMBLY!

I FEEL I DESERVE THE BEST!

AFTER ALL, I'VE COME A LONG WAY.

HE'S COME A LONG WAY, ALL RIGHT--
